Allied Diplomats Talk Plebiscite On 'Free Berlin'

LONDON (AP)—Some Allied diplomats today were reported in favor of challenging Nikita Khrushchev to a plebiscite in which West Berliners could accept or reject his proposal to make their city a demilitarized free city.

Qualified informants said under the proposal being suggested, if the 2,200,000 West Berliners rejected free-city status, Khrushchev would be obliged to dump his scheme and continue to abide by the existing four-power occupation agreements.

If the West Berliners accepted the Soviet Premier's proposals, then the Americans, British and French would be bound to withdraw their 10,000 troops from their sectors of the city.

The informants stressed that this was only one of several ideas being pondered. The Allied diplomats who favor some such proposal to Moscow said they are convinced:

1. That the Russians would not risk putting their proposals to the test of public opinion.

2. That in any vote the West Berliners would resoundingly reject the Soviet proposals.

Meanwhile in New York, the United Nations General Assembly moved toward its adjournment date of Dec. 12.

The 81-nation main Political debate on the Cyprus issue by midweek. That would leave the Assembly with only three main items to discuss — atomic radiation, Algeria and Hungary.

The Cyprus question appeared headed for a deadlock. The committee neared a vote on half a dozen rival resolutions. None appeared to have enough support to get the two-thirds majority needed for Assembly approval.

A compromise resolution entered Monday night by India and eight other nations called on Britain to continue negotiations to promote self-government for its crown colony. The British said the proposal was not acceptable, virtually dooming prospects for passage.

The radiation issue was expected to be disposed of quickly. Twelve nations represented on the U.N. Scientific Committee on Atomic Radiation have put in a resolution proposing that the agency continue its work. It was expected to be approved without serious opposition.

The Algerian discussion promised to be a heated but one-sided affair.

The French have served notice they will not take part in the debate on grounds the future of the North African territory is a French internal matter. Most of the 28 Asian-African nations and the Soviet bloc are expected to speak fully on the colonial issue, however.

The Hungarian question, which is expected to generate considerable East-West heat, goes directly to the General Assembly.

The West is expected to concentrate its fire on the executions of former Premier Imre Nagy. Gen. Pal Maleter and others who led the abortive 1956 rebellion.

State Completes Case in Slaying In Barnesville

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (AP)—The prosecution has already rested its case, and the first-degree murder trial of Clarence R. Anshutz, 38, of Barnesville (Belmont County) may be completed Wednesday.

Anshutz, a construction worker, is being tried in the shooting of his common-law wife Aug. 18. Authorities said he attempted to take his own life by placing a shotgun in his mouth, but instead shot away part of his cheek and nose.

Three judges are hearing the case in Belmont County Common Pleas Court. The prosecution presented its case in four hours Monday, and introduced what it contends is Anshutz' written admission of the shooting. The defense asserted Anshutz' father, Robert, shot another man Nov. 2, 1932, but then took his own life, and that this has preyed on his son's mind.

Patrolman Robert Hackmeyer said the truck, loaded with 3,500 chickens, slid off the highway, went through the fence and overturned in the field.

He and the driver, William J. Nixon, 32, Greenville, estimated that "at least half" of the chickens were killed. Hackmeyer said Nixon told him he thought he could have saved some of the chickens had he been able to get the chains, which held the crates on the truck, loose.

As the truck went off the road, it tore loose three telephone wires. They were quickly patched with little loss of service.

TWO TRUCKS came from the produce company to pick up the live chickens and take them on to their destination.

The patrolman said the truck was "virtually demolished" and estimated the damage as around $3,000. The loss of the chickens was estimated at around $1,500.

Nixon was not cited. Hackmeyer explained that although the highway was dry and clear of snow and ice, the truck slid off the berm and that Nixon could not get it back over a small ridge at the edge of the highway, partly because of the too-heavy load.

McElroy Urged To Fight for Defense Fund

New Mexico Solon Says Congress Sure To Back Request

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy was invited by Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-NM) today to put up a fight for a substantial increase in defense funds in the new budget.

Basic decisions on the size of the administration's military budget may be made at meetings of the National Security Council Wednesday and Thursday.

Chavez, who heads the Senate's Defense Appropriations subcommittee, said in an interview he understands McElroy wants more money for the military than President Eisenhower's fiscal advisers are willing to see spent.

"I'm on McElroy's side," Chavez said. "If he will fight for the funds he needs, he will find the majority of Congress behind him. We're going to vote every penny needed for national security."

In the past, Chavez's subcommittee generally has voted to increase defense spending above the total previously allowed by the House, which acts first on all money bills. In most cases the subcommittee's decisions have been upheld by the full Appropriations Committee, which will be controlled by a 2-1 margin by the Democrats in the new Congress.

McElroy has hinted that next year's military budget request may be a billion dollars higher than the current $40,800,000,000 level of defense outlays.

Eisenhower has been attempting to hold the total of defense and all other spending down to keep the new budget under an 80-billion dollar ceiling.

Agency Seeks Shield Planes From Rockets

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board stepped in today to protect airplanes from the hazards of amateur rocketry.

No airplane has been shot down by the amateurs' missiles and rockets—yet or otherwise—but the CAB said there is growing concern over the hazards.

"This concern has been enlarged by recent large-scale production of rockets which are available to the general public at a relatively small cost through hobby shops and department stores," it said.

To prevent such equipment from becoming potential anti-aircraft weapons, the CAB proposed a series of amendments to civil air regulations under which it controls air space. It will accept comments from anyone concerned until Jan. 27, and will act after that.

The board proposed to prohibit rocket and missile firings within five miles of any airport, and to ban them entirely in areas of controlled air space such as civil airways and airport traffic patterns.

The new rules also would prohibit firings to a height of more than 500 feet unless the launch site and firing were approved by the administrator of civil aeronautics.

Reds to Aid Indonesia

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Indonesians will train in Communist Czechoslovakia to use military equipment purchased there, but the government did not specify what equipment was involved.

The biggest loss, $600,000, was in a Jan. 25 blaze that destroyed the W. T. Grant Store and damaged four others in the Miracle Mile shopping center. An insurance settlement was made on the basis that the fire was caused by a discarded cigarette.

The latest major fire was Monday, when an $80,000 blaze wrecked the Franklin Park Furniture Co. building. It was blamed on a thermostat failure on a gas unit heater.

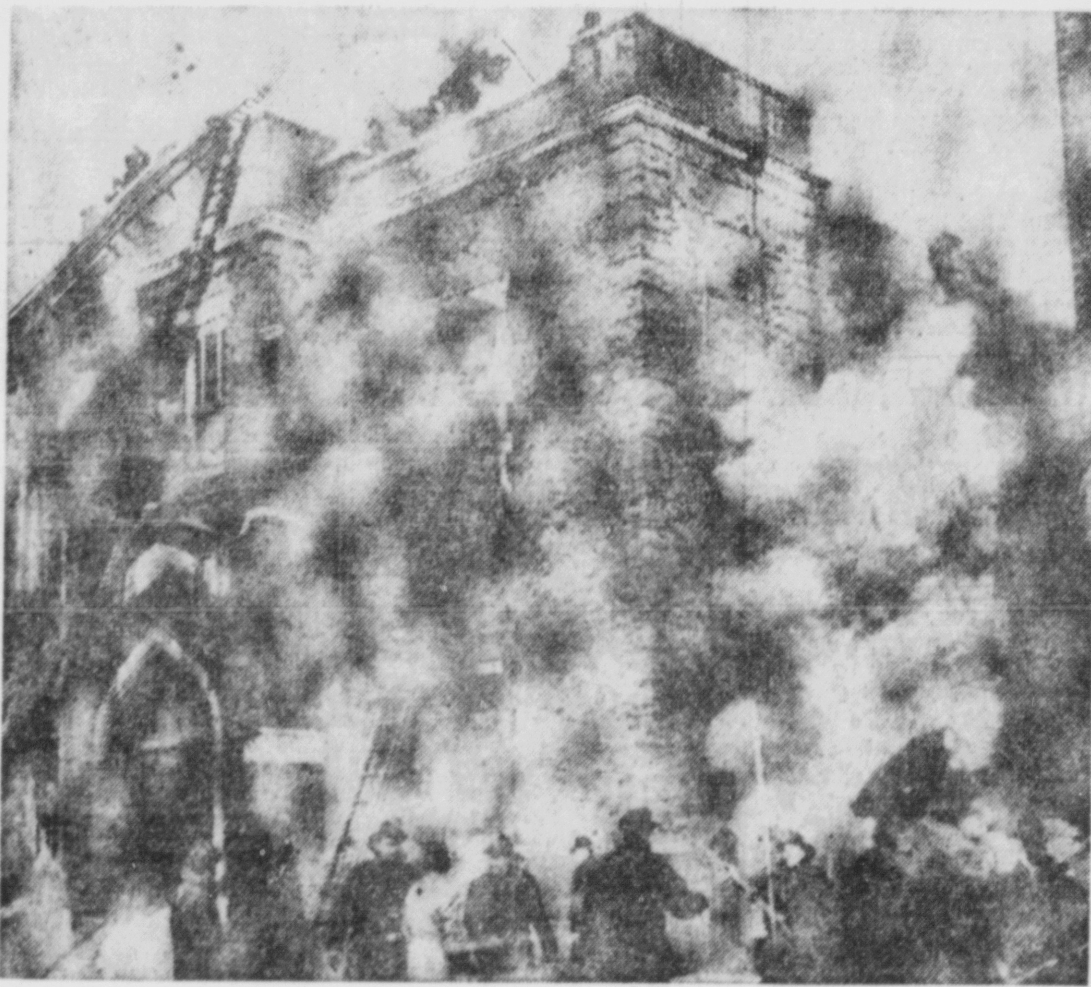

Other big fires were at the Embers Night Club, the Tivoli Restaurant, the Leader Department Store and in a building housing a warehouse and a bottling concern.

All secondary roads are slippery in spots, the bulletin said, except southeast of a line marked by Woodsfield, Caldwell, McConnellsville, Logan, McArthur and Galipolis, which are icy and partly snow covered.

PROBERS SEEKING CAUSE OF TRAGIC SCHOOL FIRE

FLAMES AND SMOKE pour from Our Lady of the Angels parochial school in Chicago's northwest side where 87 children and three nuns perished in a tragic flash fire Monday, a few minutes before classes were to be dismissed for the day.

87 Pupils, 3 Nuns Perish in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—Grim investigators today shook off the shock of Chicago's worst school fire and strove to find the answer to this question:

"How did it happen and why?"

The fire that flashed through Our Lady of the Angels School Monday shortly before closing time cost 90 lives—87 children and three nuns.

More than 85 youngsters remained in hospitals.

It was Chicago's most disastrous blaze since the Iroquois Theater holocaust in 1903 and the third worst school fire in the nation in 100 years.

The flames shot up in the two-story brick building like fire from a blowtorch. Heat and smoke trapped the victims on the upper floor of the north wing of the U-shaped structure.

Twenty-four bodies were found in one room. Most of them were jammed near windows. Firemen, sickened by the spectacle, said a few of the children were still at their desks, apparently paralyzed by fear and panic.

Others leaped from windows. The little survivors suffered from burns, bones broken in falls and the shock of the horror they beheld.

Fire Commissioner Robert J. Quinn considered the possibility of arson. That possibility was raised by the swift spread of the blaze.

"It was the worst thing I have ever seen or ever will see," he said.

Quinn also said the black smoke indicated an oil-type fire.

The fire originated in the northeast corner of the school at 3808 W. Iowa St. on the Northwest Side. Investigators pinpointed the place of origin below the street level.

A 30-gallon can was found in a stairwell in that section of the structure. It was taken to the police crime laboratory for careful examination.

Another possibility was that the fire sprang up in waste paper in the building.

Daniel O'Shea, 12, a pupil who carried the waste paper to the basement a few minutes before the fire started was questioned by police seeking to determine the cause of the disaster.

The boy said he left his seventh grade room with a basket of paper about 10 minutes before the fire began. He added that he dumped the paper in a container to be burned later by the janitor.

Sgt. Drew Brown, head of the police arson squad, said the waste paper was dumped in the boiler room about 15 feet from the stairwell where the fire was believed to have started.

But, if the fire started in the paper, how was it kindled?

Nobody came forward with an answer.

One theory was that a cigarette may have been discarded in the refuse.

Sgt. Brown found black smudges on the lower walls of the stairwell that indicated an oil-like substance had burned there.

He stated that no evidence of a touchoff had been found thus far.

Pope John XXIII sent to the Chicago Archdiocese a telegram of profound sorrow over the disaster in the Roman Catholic school.

Just 18 minutes was the difference between life and death for the 1,300 students and black-robed teachers in the school. The first box alarm was turned in at 2:42 p.m. The school let out at 3 p.m.

Within minutes the building turned into a wild, screaming inferno. Smoke and heat filled staircases and second-floor corridors so fast that normal exits were impassable.

School Annexation Law Is Upset

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Common Pleas Judge Kenneth L. Sater has dealt a blow to Ohio's school annexation law.

He held that a constitutional provision on taxation overrides a law the State Board of Education has followed.

The decision ordered a 620-acre tract in two townships of Franklin County transferred to the Columbus School District. The city accepted the land for annexation in mid-1957.

Following such annexations, statute requires approval of the state board. Another section of state law bans such transfers if an "island" is created in the school district.

An eight-acre "island" in the Gahanna School District was created by the Columbus annexation.

It was the nagging, he said, that caused him to miss the signal.

Arson Hinted Back of Fires In Toledo

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Striking similarities in an epidemic of major fires here this year indicate arsonists have been behind some of them.

There have been seven big fires on the west side of Toledo and in adjoining Washington Twp., causing losses of approximately 1½ million dollars.

Most of the fires broke out while the places were closed. In most cases, the fires had a good start before they were seen. Frequently the damage was so extensive that it thwarted efforts to determine the causes.

In one—a $260,000 blaze that gutted Epworth Methodist Church Sept. 7—arson has been held definitely the cause.

School Fire Third Worst In 100 Years

CHICAGO (AP)—The fire that struck Our Lady of Angels School Monday was the third worst school fire in the nation in the last 100 years and the worst in Chicago in 55 years.

The greatest school disaster occurred March 18, 1937, when 294 died in a school explosion and fire in New London, Tex.

The other major school fire claimed 176 lives in the Collinwood School in Cleveland March 4, 1908.

The worst fire in Chicago took 602 lives Dec. 30, 1903, when the Iroquois Theater burned.

In June 5, 1946, 61 persons perished in a fire in the LaSalle Hotel, Chicago.

There have been 26 fires in this country in which as many as 50 persons died. Two were school fires. Only eight fires with such a loss of life have occurred in the last 20 years, none of them in schools.

Worst of these recent fires was the Cocoanut Grove Night Club blaze in Boston Nov. 28, 1942, in which 498 died.

Other fires with major losses of life in the last two decades are: Dec. 7, 1946 — 119 dead in Wine-coff Hotel fire, Atlanta, Ga.

Oct. 20, 1944 — 135 killed in Cleveland liquid gas explosion and fire.

July 6, 1944 — 168 dead in Ringling Brothers Barnum and Bailey Circus fire at Hartford, Conn.

April 23, 1940 — 198 killed in Negro dance hall fire at Natchez, Miss.

Margaret was one of the 87 pupils who perished in a fire which swept the school.

'Your Child Is an Angel Now'

Priests Seek To Comfort Bereaved in Dismal Morgue

CHICAGO (AP)—The acrid stench of burned bodies and clothing hung heavily over the morgue at the Cook County Hospital today.

Inside, scores of priests and hospital attendants tried to comfort bereaved relatives still trying to identify the bodies of schoolchildren who died in Monday's fire at Our Lady of the Angels Roman Catholic School.

Ninety sheet-covered bodies lay on stretchers in three rooms of the morgue basement. Some had been identified within hours after the fire.

Some fire-blackened bodies conorted in agony may never be identified.

Among white-clad nurses and morgue attendants could be seen the frocked figures of priests.

Here was one, his arm around the shoulder of a weeping woman, trying to console her.

"It was the will of God," was heard in a low whisper from the priest. "Your daughter is an angel in heaven."

The woman wept unrestrainedly.

From the other side of the room came a shriek. A woman collapsed and immediately attendants ringed her, eased her into a chair and administered smelling salts.

Nearby stood a couple in their 30s. Pale, dry of tears, they fingered a rosary, their lips moving wordlessly. The man had said earlier his daughter was not reported in any of the half-dozen hospitals to which many of the children had been taken. The couple came to the morgue, but had not looked at any of the unidentified children.

They were praying she still might have only been injured, perhaps still in a hospital through some mixup in names.

Hovering among the parishioners was Father Joseph Ormibene. This 32-year-old priest, a native Chicagoan, came to Our Lady as the parish was known, in 1952. It was his first assignment after ordination.

He was "Father Joe" to everyone.

It was his daily routine to walk about the schoolyard and near the entrances during recess, the noon lunch period and as the children left the building at 3 p.m.

Monday, Father Ormibene met an old friend for lunch. They dined at the table. Then he noticed it would soon be time for his young parishioners to leave school for home.

"I was hurrying to the school in my car," he said. "I saw smoke coming from the upper windows and drove my car the wrong way up a one-way street. I parked the car and ran into the building."

"Some children were leaving the building in an orderly fire-drill manner. Others were running about, screaming. Then everything was ablaze."

"I tried . . . I wanted to . . . It was the will of God."

When the first bodies began arriving at the morgue, Father Joe was asked to make tentative identification. He knew the greatest force of the fire was concentrated in the section housing Rooms 207, 208, 209, 211 and 212.

Scores of these children he knew by name. All were his friends.

Yet, when he had to identify them by name, or grade he could only whisper: "I'm not sure of this little one. . . I think this one was in 209. . . This boy was . . . I'm not sure."

He pressed a thin, shaking hand to his temple. For a moment, it appeared that he might collapse. An attendant slipped a bottle of salts to the priest's nostrils and he straightened up, backing away from the pungent odor.

Then he walked among the bereaved relatives. He stopped, talked with a weeping father.

"It was the will of God, Stanley. Your daughter is now an angel in heaven."

Post Office To Extend Hours for Holiday Rush

The Washington C. H. post office will extend its hours to handle the expected record amount of Christmas mail this year, Postmaster Clark Wickensimer said Tuesday.

The service window, which usually close at noon on Thursdays and Saturdays, will remain open during the two weeks prior to Christmas, Wickensimer said.

The windows will be open from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. on Dec. 11 and 18 and from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. on Dec. 13 and 20, he said.

The previous record number of pieces of mail handled in the pre-holiday season, 504,080, were sent in 1957. The number this year, coinciding with the expected record number of dollars spent for Christmas, is expected to go above that number.

WICKENSIMER cautioned residents to start thinking about mailing their packages now so friends

Anxious Pupil Becomes Victim

CHICAGO (AP)—Margaret Chambers was forced to stay home from her fourth-grade classes at Our Lady of the Angels Catholic grade school Monday morning because she had a cold.

At noon, the 9-year-old pupil told her mother, Rose Chambers, she wanted to go to school in the afternoon. Reluctantly, her mother granted permission.

Margaret was one of the 87 pupils who perished in a fire which swept the school.

Soviet Bloc Opposes A-Arms for Germany

GENEVA (AP)—Soviet bloc delegates said today any nuclear armament of West Germany would have an adverse effect on the arms control negotiations in Geneva.

Soviet and Polish delegates stressed that at the 10-nation talks on surprise attack problems.

A decision on nuclear weapons for West Germany is expected to be made at the NATO meeting in Paris this month.

Priests Seek To Comfort Bereaved in Dismal Morgue

CHICAGO (AP)—The acrid stench of burned bodies and the clatter of heavy bodies and the clatter of the Cook County Hospital today.

Inside, scores of priests and hospital attendants tried to comfort bereaved relatives still trying to identify the bodies of schoolchildren who died in Monday's fire at Our Lady of the Angels Roman Catholic School.

Ninety sheet-covered bodies lay on stretchers in three rooms of the morgue basement. Some had been identified within hours after the fire.

Some fire-blackened bodies contorted in agony may never be identified.

Among white-clad nurses and morgue attendants could be seen the frocked figures of priests. Here was one, his arm around the shoulder of a weeping woman, trying to console her.

"It was the will of God," was heard in a low whisper from the priest. "Your daughter is an angel in heaven."

The woman wept unrestrainedly. From the other side of the room came a shriek. A woman collapsed and immediately a attendant ringed her, eased her into a chair and administered smelling salts.

87 Pupils, 3 Nuns Perish in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—Grim investigators today shook off the shock of Chicago's worst school fire and strove to find the answer to this question:

"How did it happen and why?"

The fire that flashed through Our Lady of the Angels School Monday shortly before closing time cost 90 lives—87 children and three nuns.

More than 85 youngsters remained in hospitals.

It was Chicago's most disastrous blaze since the Iroquois Theater holocaust in 1903 and the third worst school fire in the nation in 100 years.

The flames shot up in the two-story brick building like fire from a blowtorch. Heat and smoke trapped the victims on the upper floor of the north wing of the U-shaped structure.

Twenty-four bodies were found in one room. Most of them were jammed near windows. Firemen, sickened by the spectacle, said a few of the children were still at their desks, apparently paralyzed by fear and panic.

Others leaped from windows. The little survivors suffered from burns, bones broken in falls and the shock of the horror they beheld.

Fire Commissioner Robert J. Quinn considered the possibility of arson. That possibility was raised by the swift spread of the blaze.

"It was the worst thing I have ever seen or ever will see," he said.

Quinn also said the black smoke indicated an oil-type fire.

The fire originated in the northeast corner of the school at 3808 W. Iowa St. on the Northwest Side. Investigators pinpointed the place of origin below the street level.

A 30-gallon can was found in a stairwell in that section of the structure. It was taken to the police crime laboratory for careful examination.

Another possibility was that the fire sprang up in waste paper in the building.

Daniel O'Shea, 12, a pupil who carried the waste paper to the basement a few minutes before the fire started was questioned by police seeking to determine the cause of the disaster.

The boy said he left his seventh grade room with a basket of paper about 10 minutes before the fire began. He added that he dumped the paper in a container to be burned later by the janitor.

Sgt. Drew Brown, head of the police arson squad, said the waste paper was dumped in the boiler room about 15 feet from the stairwell where the fire was believed to have started.

But, if the fire started in the paper, how was it kindled? Nobody came forward with an answer.

One theory was that a cigarette may have been discarded in the refuse.

Sgt. Brown found black smudges on the lower walls of the stairwell that indicated an oil-like substance had burned there.

He stated that no evidence of a touchoff had been found thus far.

Pope John XXIII sent to the Chicago Archdiocese a telegram of profound sorrow over the disaster in the Roman Catholic school.

Just 18 minutes was the difference between life and death for the 1,300 students and black-robed teachers in the school. The first box alarm was turned in at 2:42 p.m. The school let out at 3 p.m.

Within minutes the building turned into a wild, screaming inferno. Smoke and heat filled staircases and second-floor corridors so fast that normal exits were impassable.

School Annexation Law Is Upset

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Common Pleas Judge Kenneth L. Sater has dealt a blow to Ohio's school annexation law.

He held that a constitutional provision on taxation overrides a law the State Board of Education has followed.

The decision ordered a 620-acre tract in two townships of Franklin County transferred to the Columbus School District. The city accepted the land for annexation in mid-1957.

Following such annexations, statute requires approval of the state board. Another section of state law bans such transfers if an "island" is created in the school district.

An eight-acre "island" in the Gahanna School District was created by the Columbus annexation.

Yank Water Curtailed

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—About 54 American families on United Fruit Co. plantations in eastern Cuba were down to a one-day water supply today because of rebel interference with the pipeline.

and drove my car the wrong way up a one-way street. I parked the car and ran into the building.

"Some children were leaving the building in an orderly fire-drill manner. Others were running about, screaming. Then everything was ablaze.

"I tried . . . I wanted to . . . It was the will of God."

When the first bodies began arriving at the morgue, Father Joe was asked to make tentative identification. He knew the greatest force of the fire was concentrated in the section housing Rooms 207, 208, 209, 211 and 212.

Scores of these children he knew by name. All were his friends.

Yet, when he had to identify them by name, or grade he could only whisper: "I'm not sure of this little one. . . I think this one was in 209. . . This boy was . . . I'm not sure."

He pressed a thin, shaking hand to his temple. For a moment, it appeared that he might collapse.

An attendant slipped a bottle of salts to the priest's nostrils and he straightened up, backing away from the pungent odor.

Then he walked among the bereaved relatives. He stopped, talked with a weeping father.

"It was the will of God, Stanley. Your daughter is now an angel in heaven."

Car Hit by Train Demolished But Driver Gets Only Scratch

NEW HOLLAND — Although his convertible was demolished when it was hit by an east-bound Pennsylvania freight train here about 8 p. m. Monday, Melvin Voight, 22, Pittsburgh escaped with a small scratch on his lip.

Voight, on leave from a Marine Corps base in California, was returning to his home in Pittsburgh from a visit with relatives in Cincinnati when the train hit his car at the Route 22 crossing at the east edge of the village.

Arnold Downing, an employee of Fletcher Motors, where the wrecked car was taken, said Voight told him he neither saw nor heard the approaching train.

The car, Downing said, was sold for junk.

Voight was taken to Washington C. H. by Marshal Wilbur Fraizer, where he spent the night. His father came from Pittsburgh and took him on to his home Tuesday.

THAT WAS only one of two accidents of consequence in the area in 24 hours.

None was reported to the Sheriff's Department here and only one minor collision was reported to city police.

This was in contrast to the rash of mishaps that followed Friday's heavy snow. Clearing of the highways and county roads of packed snow and ice was credited with the accident drop-off.

An estimated 1,500 chickens were killed in the other accident when a truckload of chickens slid off Route 70 about 3 miles north of Jeffersonville at 6:30 Tuesday.

Ohio Highway Patrolman Robert Hackemeyer and the driver, William J. Nixon of Greenville, estimated that "about half" of the 3,500 chickens on the truck were killed.

In the only reported accident in the city, Clarence Haynes, 47, of 729 Eastern Ave., backed out of a parking space on East St., 150 feet west of Fayette St., into a car driven by Chester C. Brown, Route 22, near Johnson's Crossing at 4:15 p. m. Monday. The right front door of Brown's car was damaged.

Ohioan Faces Accusation of Child Cruelty

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A Marietta, Ohio, man faces a hearing Wednesday on charges of cruel and unlawful punishment on a child he claims was given him last July.

Juvenile court authorities filed the charges against Donald Dean Wallace, 29, who was arrested for mistreating a 5-year-old boy.

Wallace at first claimed he was the child's father. But Arthur E. Hutto, assistant state's attorney, said a New Orleans couple gave the boy to Wallace and a companion, Raymond Jacobson.

Wallace produced a birth certificate and a "bill of sale or lease" signed by Mrs. Donna Sloan as the boy's mother and Jacobson as witness.

The child was born at Orange City Hospital, Tex., and Mrs. Sloan wrote over her signature that she "gave the boy to Wallace for one week."

The boy's parents, who live in a trailer with two other children at New Orleans, said they surrendered the boy to Wallace and Jacobson last July, according to chief of detectives William McNamara of New Orleans.

Miami police uncovered the case when neighbors called them to the trailer park where Wallace and Jacobson lived with the child.

Girl, 17, Held For Shooting Her Parents

MAUSTON, Wis. (AP) — A finance company president and his wife were shot to death in their home Monday night. Dist. Atty. William Brady said today that their 17-year-old daughter, apprehended in the family car a few hours later, admitted killing her parents.

Thomas Dakin, 46, and his 43-year-old wife, Betty, were cut down by pistol fire. They were the parents of two girls, the other 11. Brady said that Jane Dakin would be taken before Juneau County Juvenile Judge William R. Curran on a delinquency petition. He declined to give any details of her statement.

The girl was taken into custody while driving toward Wisconsin Dells, about 20 miles from Mauston. She was returned to Mauston.

Coroner Clarence Sorenson said Dakin was shot twice near the heart after he returned home from a Kiwanis Club meeting. His body was near that of his wife who lay at the bottom of a stairway in the living room. She had been shot four times in the head and chest. Sorenson said she had been the first to die.

Both were killed by bullets from a .22 caliber automatic pistol.

The 11-year-old daughter, Mary, was with friends at a movie when the bodies of her parents were found.

Two Holdup Men Too Late, Too Slow

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Two men. Too late. Too slow.

That's the story of a robbery today in the manager's office of Brand Whitlock Homes, a housing development.

Too late, because the men entered the office a half hour after an armored car had removed $4,200 from the office safe for bank deposit. The pair got only $291 from a cash drawer.

Too slow, police said, because the men were captured six minutes later in a high speed auto chase on the Anthony Wayne Trail.

Arrested on Toledo's suspicious person charge were Harry E. Davis, 29, and Warren Woodberry, 21.

Iowa Doctor Named as Top U. S. Physician

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — An Iowa doctor who delivered 2,000 babies in their own homes was chosen today as the nation's outstanding family physician of the year.

Dr. Lonnie A. Coffin, 68, Farmington, was awarded the honor by the House of Delegates of the American Medical Assn.

The award is given each year to the doctor who typifies the thousands of general practitioners throughout the country who have dedicated their lives to the practice of medicine and who have given exceptional service to their communities.

Dr. Coffin becomes the first Iowan to win the honor. Dr. Cecil W. Clark of Cameron, La., who won fame during Hurricane Audrey, was last year's winner.

Dr. Coffin terms himself "an ordinary country doctor."

He was instrumental in getting and developing Indian Lake, a 200-acre park which has made boating, fishing and picnicking available to the surrounding area.

The doctor bought basketball tournament tickets for high school students who couldn't pay their own way.

He also bought graduation clothes for students who couldn't afford them.

He donated stage settings for junior and senior plays at Farmington High School.

Mt. Sterling Man Fined and Jailed For Drunk Driving

Arie Brown, 32, Route 1, Mt. Sterling was fined $200 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and suspended from driving, except to his work, for a year by Judge Max G. Dice in Municipal Court Tuesday morning after he pleaded guilty to driving while drunk.

Brown was picked up at 9:15 p. m. Monday by Deputy Sheriff Don Thompson on S. Fayette St.

Brown also was fined $25 and costs for driving without an operator's license, but Judge Dice suspended the fine.

Bonds of $20 each were forfeited in the only other two cases on the day's docket.

Clarence Ward, 21, Columbus, forfeited his bond for hunting without permission on Kenneth McCray's farm in Marion Township north of New Holland.

Clarence B. Lee, 26, of Kentucky, forfeited his for making excessive noise with his truck on Clinton Ave.

Turnpike Revenue Rockets Upward

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Ohio Turnpike's total revenue for this year is running a million dollars ahead of 1957 although traffic is about the same. The reason: Higher passenger car toll rates.

James W. Shocknessy, turnpike commission chairman, said Monday that during the first 11 months of this year 10,486,000 vehicles used the toll road. In the same 1957 period the total was 10,483,612.

Revenue, however, was $19,356,000 by Nov. 30, an increase of a million dollars over the first 11 months of 1957.

For the month of November revenue from all sources was estimated at $1,560,000 or $156,000 ahead of November, 1957. The 843,000 vehicles using the road during November was an increase of 29,000 over a year ago.

Ike Slated For Return To Capital

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower flies back to Washington late today, well rested after 13 days of golf mixed with work here.

Returning with him are his youngest grandchild, 2-year-old Mary Jean, and her parents, Army Maj. and Mrs. John Eisenhower.

The rest of the family — the President's wife and the three grandchildren of school age — went back to Washington Sunday. The John Eisenhowers and their youngsters came to Augusta for the Thanksgiving weekend.

In advance of departure, the President planned a final round of golf. Up to today he had played 11 eighteen-hole rounds and made one nine-hole tour at the Augusta National Golf Club course. He hasn't missed a day so far.

Eisenhower returns to a busy schedule in Washington the next few weeks. At the top of his work calendar are preparations for the convening of the new Congress Jan. 7.

Still to be completed are the legislative program and the federal budget which will go to the lawmakers shortly after they open shop. Congressional leaders of both parties probably will be called to the White House for conferences on those matters later this month.

Hillsboro Area Man Dies as Home Burns

HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP) — George Smith, about 75, was killed late Monday in a fire that destroyed his four-room, frame home near Danville.

A neighbor, Leroy McLaughlin, said he discovered the fire and tried to rescue Smith but was driven back. Coroner Dr. J. Martin Byers said Smith's body was found in the living room near a coal stove. The cause was not determined.

Smith lived alone, McLaughlin reported.

Nationalist, 85, Wins in Uruguay

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — The right-wing Herrerista faction of the National party won control of Uruguay's nine-man National Council of Government by upsetting the Colorado (liberal) party in voting Sunday.

No change in Uruguay's pro-Western foreign policy was expected though Herrera has clashed with the Western democracies frequently in the past and favored neutrality during World War II.

Stock Mart Drifts Lower, Trading Quiet

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market drifted lower today in much more quiet dealings than in recent excited sessions.

The losses did not amount to much but they were spread over important stock groups. The decline was no surprise to market analysts, who had expected it after three days of advancing prices.

An encouraging factor, brokers said, was that the trading pace slackened on the price slump. Volume for the first two hours today totaled 1,350,000 shares compared with 1,620,000 at the same time Monday.

Goodyear ran up more than four points in the rubber section. Standard Packaging raced ahead more than a point in good volume.

Pfizer gained a fraction, as did Merck.

Radio Corp. advanced nearly two points, but most of the rest of the electronics group rested after Monday's upsurge. Zenith fell more than one point but wiped out the loss in later dealings.

American Telephone & Telegraph retreated on profit taking.

The steels, oils, metals and tobaccos were generally lower but in no case did losses run as much as one point in major stocks. Aircrafts were mixed.

Rails declined. Illinois Central lost one point as about the weakest stock in the group.

U.S. governments opened higher then receded.

Panama May Extend Territorial Waters

PANAMA (AP)—A bill to extend Panama's territorial waters to 12 miles offshore has been introduced in the National Assembly with wide support.

The measure also would extend Panamanian sovereignty to the air space over nine-mile strips of Caribbean and Pacific water.

Extension of Panamanian sovereignty would create corridors hemming in access to the canal,

Banker Held In Shortage Of $800,000

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Federal authorities have arrested a suburban banker on a charge of making a false entry of more than $800,000 in the bank's records.

The U.S. attorney's office said more arrests are expected.

"The shortage at the bank may be in excess of one million dollars," the FBI said Monday as it arrested John E. Petersen, 49. He resigned several days ago as vice president and cashier of the Sun Valley National Bank. The bank was sold Saturday.

Just what happened to the money was not explained. It was originally reported that Petersen had been accused of misappropriating the funds. But the FBI said the charge against him was that he "made or caused to be made a falsification."

The falsification consisted of false entry in the bank's records.

The falsification consisted of failing to charge to the individual customers' accounts at least $800,000 paid out by the bank for checks drawn on the accounts, said William Alexander, of the Los Angeles FBI office.

All Petersen said was: "I don't have any of this money."

Sun Valley National was sold Saturday to the Security-First National Bank of Los Angeles.

Composer Irving Berlin was born in Temun, Russia.

'NAIL PICKER' TOURS TEXAS FOR A LIVING—Joe Webb probably knows the highways of Texas better than any other man. He has covered every square inch of the state's major highways six or seven times, at a speed of 5 miles an hour. He drives a yellow pickup truck equipped with a magnet which picks up nails and other pieces of metal lying on and alongside the roads. He works for the state highway department, and has been called "Texas nail picker" since 1944.

Juvenile court authorities filed the charges against Donald Dean Wallace, 29, who was arrested for mistreating a 5-year-old boy.

Wallace at first claimed he was the child's father. But Arthur E. Huttee, assistant state's attorney, said a New Orleans couple gave the boy to Wallace and a companion, Raymond Jacobson.

Wallace produced a birth certificate and a "bill of sale or lease" signed by Mrs. Donna Sloan as the boy's mother and Jacobson as witness.

The child was born at Orange City Hospital, Tex., and Mrs. Sloan wrote over her signature that she "gave the boy to Wallace for one week."

The boy's parents, who live in a trailer with two other children at New Orleans, said they surrendered the boy to Wallace and Jacobson last July, according to chief of detectives William McNamara of New Orleans.

Miami police uncovered the case when neighbors called them to the trailer park where Wallace and Jacobson lived with the child.

Girl, 17, Held For Shooting Her Parents

MAUSTON, Wis. (AP)—A finance company president and his wife were shot to death in their home Monday night. Dist. Atty. William Brady said today that their 17-year-old daughter, apprehended in the family car a few hours later, admitted killing her parents.

Thomas Dakin, 46, and his 43-year-old wife, Betty, were cut down by pistol fire. They were the parents of two girls, the other 11.

Brady said that Jane Dakin would be taken before Juneau County Juvenile Judge William R. Curran on a delinquency petition. He declined to give any details of her statement.

The girl was taken into custody while driving toward Wisconsin Dells, about 20 miles from Mauston. She was returned to Mauston.

Coroner Clarence Sorenson said Dakin was shot twice near the heart after he returned home from a Kiwanis Club meeting. His body was near that of his wife who lay at the bottom of a stairway in the living room. She had been shot four times in the head and chest. Sorenson said she had been the first to die.

Both were killed by bullets from a .22 caliber automatic pistol.

The 11-year-old daughter, Mary, was with friends at a movie when the bodies of her parents were found.

Two Holdup Men Too Late, Too Slow

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Two men. Too late. Too slow.

That's the story of a robbery today in the manager's office of Brand Whitlock Homes, a housing development.

Too late, because the men entered the office a half hour after an armored car had removed $4,200 from the office safe for bank deposit. The pair got only $291 from a cash drawer.

Too slow, police said, because the men were captured six minutes later in a high speed auto chase on the Anthony Wayne Trail.

Arrested on Toledo's suspicious person charge were Harry E. Davis, 29, and Warren Woodberry, 21.

Iowa Doctor Named as Top U. S. Physician

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—An Iowa doctor who delivered 2,000 babies in their own homes was chosen today as the nation's outstanding family physician of the year.

Dr. Lonnie A. Coffin, 68, Farmington, was awarded the honor by the House of Delegates of the American Medical Assn.

The award is given each year to the doctor who typifies the thousands of general practitioners throughout the country who have dedicated their lives to the practice of medicine and who have given exceptional service to their communities.

Dr. Coffin becomes the first Iowan to win the honor. Dr. Cecil W. Clark of Cameron, La., who won fame during Hurricane Audrey, was last year's winner.

Dr. Coffin terms himself "an ordinary country doctor."

He was instrumental in getting and developing Indian Lake, a 200-acre park which has made boating, fishing and picnicking available to the surrounding area.

The doctor bought basketball tournament tickets for high school students who couldn't pay their own way.

He also bought graduation clothes for students who couldn't afford them.

He donated stage settings for junior and senior plays at Farmington High School.

Mt. Sterling Man Fined and Jailed For Drunk Driving

Arie Brown, 32, Route 1, Mt. Sterling was fined $200 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and suspended from driving, except to his work, for a year by Judge Max G. Dice in Municipal Court Tuesday morning after he pleaded guilty to driving while drunk.

Brown was picked up at 9:15 p. m. Monday by Deputy Sheriff Don Thompson on S. Fayette St.

Brown also was fined $25 and costs for driving without an operator's license, but Judge Dice suspended the fine.

Bonds of $20 each were forfeited in the only other two cases on the day's docket.

Clarence Ward, 21, Columbus, forfeited his bond for hunting without permission on Kenneth McCray's farm in Marion Township north of New Holland.

Clarence B. Lee, 26, of Kentucky, forfeited his for making excessive noise with his truck on Clinton Ave.

Turnpike Revenue Rockets Upward

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Ohio Turnpike's total revenue for this year is running a million dollars ahead of 1957 although traffic is about the same. The reason: Higher passenger car toll rates.

James W. Shocknessy, turnpike commission chairman, said Monday that during the first 11 months of this year 10,486,000 vehicles used the toll road. In the same 1957 period the total was 10,483,612.

Revenue, however, was $19,356,000 by Nov. 30, an increase of a million dollars over the first 11 months of 1957.

For the month of November revenue from all sources was estimated at $1,560,000 or $156,000 ahead of November, 1957. The 843,000 vehicles using the road during November was an increase of 29,000 over a year ago.

Ike Slated For Return To Capital

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower flies back to Washington late today, well rested after 13 days of golf mixed with work here.

Returning with him are his youngest grandchild, 2-year-old Mary Jean, and her parents, Army Maj. and Mrs. John Eisenhower.

The rest of the family — the President's wife and the three grandchildren of school age — went back to Washington Sunday. The John Eisenhowers and their youngsters came to Augusta for the Thanksgiving weekend.

In advance of departure, the President planned a final round of golf. Up to today he had played 11 eighteen-hole rounds and made one nine-hole shot at the Augusta National Golf Club course. He hasn't missed a day so far.

Eisenhower returns to a busy schedule in Washington the next few weeks. At the top of his work calendar are preparations for the convening of the new Congress Jan. 7.

Still to be completed are the legislative program and the federal budget which will go to the lawmakers shortly after they open shop. Congressional leaders of both parties probably will be called to the White House for conferences on those matters later this month.

Hillsboro Area Man Dies as Home Burns

HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP)—George Smith, about 75, was killed late Monday in a fire that destroyed his four-room, frame home near Danville.

A neighbor, Leroy McLaughlin, said he discovered the fire and tried to rescue Smith but was driven back. Coroner Dr. J. Martin Byers said Smith's body was found in the living room near a coal stove. The cause was not determined.

Smith lived alone, McLaughlin reported.

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP)—The right-wing Herrerista faction of the National party won control of Uruguay's nine-man National Council of Government by upsetting the Colorado (liberal) party in voting Sunday.

No change in Uruguay's pro-Western foreign policy was expected though Herrera has clashed with the Western democracies frequently in the past and favored neutrality during World War II.

Highway Department Releases Figures For First 9 Months

Deaths and accidents in Fayette County were running ahead of 1957 figures and equal to 1956 figures during the first nine months of this year, the safety statistical division of the Ohio Department of Highways said in a recent compilation of figures.

During the first nine months of 1958, six people died in county accidents, compared with four a year ago and six the previous year.

By the end of November, the county had racked up a total of seven deaths, the total number of deaths in each of the two previous years.

THE NUMBER of accidents through September paralleled those of two years ago. At that time the sheriff's office had been called to investigate 309 accidents.

A year ago the total number of accidents had only reached 283 by the end of September.

But although the accidents were fewer in number, a total of 109 persons had been injured last year, compared with 96 this year and 104 two years ago.

ACCIDENTS involving only property took a sharp dip last year from 200 in 1956 to 175, then skyrocketed again in 1958 to 210.

Although the number of accidents rose 26 this year over last year, the number of people injured has decreased from 158 to 148.

But property damage jumped $43,000 during that year, reaching $159,259 by last Sept. 30, the division said.

Boy, 11, Heads for Logan For Perhaps 'Last' Christmas

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—An 11-year-old boy left here by plane early today to go home to Logan, Ohio, to spend what doctors say may be his last Christmas.

Brown-haired Kenneth Ucker, dying of a malignant tumor in his abdomen, had expressed a desire to return to Logan where he has lived most of his life.

His mother, Mrs. Charlene Ucker, 29, accompanied her son on the plane trip.

Friends of the Ucker family in Logan, 50 miles southeast of Columbus, collected money for the plane fare and plan a welcome for Kenneth at the end of the 15-hour journey. Greeters will include Kenneth's pals in his old Cub Scout pack and his former teammates on a Logan little league team. He was a pitcher on the team.

Kenneth and his mother will be met in Columbus by an ambulance which will transport him to Logan. Their plane is due to arrive in Columbus at 3:15 p.m. (EST).

Mrs. Ucker said that Kenneth became listless and complained of stomach pains about a month ago.

"I thought he was just homesick," she said. "He hated for us to leave Logan."

Kenneth was examined and, three weeks ago, an exploratory operation revealed the tumor. A physician said the cancerous growth, unusual in a child so young, was inoperable.

The Uckers came to San Diego last August. Before coming here the family had spent a short time in Jackson Hole, Wyo.

When Kenneth entered the hospital for the exploratory operation Mrs. Ucker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mc Minnis of Logan, came here to care for the other child, Martin, 3.

West Could Lose Battle for Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—The Western Allies could lose the new battle for Berlin even before the expected showdown with the Soviet Union on the future of the embattled city.

At this point, there is apprehension and pessimism among some West Berliners about the ability and determination of the Allies to maintain their position here. If this grew, it could have severe moral and economic repercussions.

sions.

The East German Reds are playing on this fear. They proclaim that any future Allied airlift to supply Berlin would be regarded as a military threat. This and similar warnings are intended to choke off the hope of the West Berliners for a new Allied airlift.

The uncertainty in West Berlin contrasts sharply with the cool nerve displayed here during the 1948-49 Soviet blockade.

Then the crisis erupted suddenly and the Allies quickly called Premier Stalin's bluff with a massive airlift. The West Berliners reacted with a firm "We shall hang on until the Russians give in."

There is no sign that their fighting spirit is less today. But there is a rather widespread feeling of "Will the Allies stand firm?" And, "If so, what can they do to keep out the Russians?"

U.S. Secretary of State Dulles' remark that the Allies might deal with the East Germans as Soviet agents touched off newspaper speculation here that Washington might have come to some secret understanding with Moscow about the future of West Berlin. Despite denials, this deepened the sense of bewilderment among West Berliners.

Willy Brandt, the fighting West Berlin mayor, is making strenuous efforts to shore up his citizens' morale. Immediately after the Soviet near-ultimatum to the Western Allies to get out of the city within six months, Brandt took to TV and radio to urge Berliners not to become panicky.

West German leaders understand the vital need for swift action to express confidence in West Berlin's future. They are reported reading huge government orders for plants here.

As an indication of what could come, some West Berliners have transferred capital to Switzerland. Hotels report some cancellations of rooms due to the crisis. Tourist business has declined.

Despite the utterances of Mayor Brandt and Western leaders, the apprehension remains.

A manufacturer said: "Some of my contracts for delivery of goods next spring have been canceled. Some firms just don't want to count on deliveries from Berlin any more. If this goes on, I'll have to start laying off people in my plant."

A salesgirl said: "My feeling is, let's live it up today. We can't tell what tomorrow—or six months—will bring here."

There are now 240 pressure treating plants across the United States which force creosote into wood so that railroad crossties and bridge timber will endure for years beyond the normal span.

Then the crisis erupted suddenly and the Allies quickly called Premier Stalin's bluff with a massive airlift. The West Berliners reacted with a firm "We shall hang on until the Russians?"

There is no sign that their fighting spirit is less today. But there is a rather widespread feeling of "Will the Allies stand firm?" And, "If so, what can they do to keep out the Russians?"

U.S. Secretary of State Dulles' remark that the Allies might deal with the East Germans as Soviet agents touched off newspaper speculation here that Washington might have come to some secret understanding with Moscow about the future of West Berlin. Despite denials, this deepened the sense of bewilderment among West Berliners.

Willy Brandt, the fighting West Berlin mayor, is making strenuous efforts to shore up his citizens' morale. Immediately after the Soviet near-ultimatum to the Western Allies to get out of the city within six months, Brandt took to TV and radio to urge Berliners not to become panicky.

West German leaders understand the vital need for swift action to express confidence in West Berlin's future. They are reported readying huge government orders for plants here.

As an indication of what could come, some West Berliners have transferred capital to Switzerland. Hotels report some cancellations of rooms due to the crisis. Tourist business has declined.

Despite the utterances of Mayor Brandt and Western leaders, the apprehension remains.

A manufacturer said: "Some of my contracts for delivery of goods next spring have been canceled. Some firms just don't want to count on deliveries from Berlin any more. If this goes on, I'll have to start laying off people in my plant."

A salesgirl said: "My feeling is, let's live it up today. We can't tell what tomorrow—or six months—will bring here."

There are now 240 pressure treating plants across the United States which force creosote into wood so that railroad cross-ties and bridge timber will endure for years beyond the normal span.

Maintain Poise in Midst of Clamor

Quite often a popular conversation starter these days is, "What do you think of a Third World War situation?"

Doubtless some of us are flattered when our opinion is sought; quite probably many of us like to believe that we really do know a lot about international affairs.

Our ideas, however, about world matters, come to us of necessity, at third, sixth or maybe tenth hand. The news writers, the analysts and other hosts of alleged experts, most often can obtain their written statements or broadcasts only from opinions they have read or heard, or obtained from people who have read or heard. A very small percentage is first hand information.

For example we read or hear what the pro - Dulles and the anti - Dulles people think. We hear the wishful thinking and often "hedging" statements of other world statesmen, and oftentimes the very fact that there is such a wide disparity in the points of view involved gives us considerable pause.

We have to realize that the business of international relations is a most intricate and delicate balance of facts and probabilities which call for highly specialized knowledge.

Of all this the average man in the street can have only a most superficial notion. If this were not so, most of us could probably preside fairly capably over deliberations of the UN.

We are constantly deluged by news fragments tossed at us from all directions, some of alarmist caliber, some reassuring; some, no doubt cleverly planted by an agency with a special axe to grind; some merely headline sensationalism.

We cannot attempt to react to every warning and prophecy, to feel jubilant at every new prospect of international peace settlements, or register alarm at every new threat of increasing trouble if we hope to retain our sanity and good judgment.

Perhaps, as we heard one man recently say, our "greatest need is some type of tranquility that is not induced by use of tranquilizing pills."

What we do need is the confidence that comes from the inner strength derived from the conviction that we must stand firm by recognizing that no price can ever be too high to pay for the privilege of being free to work out our own way of life, and to trust those officials to properly inform us when any great change is threatened; to trust them at least until they are proven to be wrong.

Ogden Nash -- Lucky Freak

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — "There is an awful lot of tightrope walking in the world today," said Ogden Nash.

"There are so many sore toes that a humorist can't help stepping on a few."

When he was 10 and his older sister was about to be married, Nash composed an ode long cherished by his family. It began:

"The beautiful spring at last is here,
And has taken my sister I sadly fear."

Some 46 years, 50,000 published lines, and a million chuckles later, Nash is widely rated as America's most successful writer of light verse.

His 13 books have sold nearly two million copies. With the possible exception of Robert Frost, he probably is the only well known American author who has made a living in the last quarter century from verse.

"I'm something of a freak," he admitted. "I've been lucky."

But even Nash has found it advisable to toil parttime in other vineyards. He lectures, has done two stints in Hollywood, written lyrics for Broadway shows, appeared as a TV panelist.

His latest television assignment was to write the lyrics for six songs for "Peter and the Wolf," starring Art Carney.

"The only love song was sung by a near-sighted dog to a duck under the impression she was a water spaniel," he said.

This kind of chore delights the offbeat mind of Nash, master of the kind of outrageous rhymes that tickle modern readers but give traditional poets a desire to beat their heads against a wall.

"I think in terms of rhyme, and have since I was six years old," he said.

He once almost fell in love with a lady named Mrs. Blorange. She fascinated him because of the similarity of her name to orange which, like the words silver and pilgrim, have no dictionary rhymes.

Nash began his career composing streetcar card ads at $1000 a month for a firm which previously had employed F. Scott Fitzgerald in this task.

"I never wrote a car card that appeared in New York City," he said. "Just places like Chillicothe, Ohio."

Nash, a soft-voiced, hazel-eyed six footer with an habitual expression of absent-minded inquiry, is a painstaking craftsman. He turns out only one or two verses a week now, writing in pencil on sheets of yellow paper.

"I work at home because there are so many interruptions there," he remarked. "I like interruptions."

Asked if he felt any of his verse had done any enduring good for the human race, Nash, a highly unpretentious man, smiled and nominated the following lines, the most widely reprinted of all he has written:

"I think that I shall never see
A billboard lovely as a tree.
Perhaps, unless the billboards fall,
I'll never see a tree at all."

Togetherness--and Hokum

By George Sokolsky

It so happened that just at the moment that so-called "group action" was giving me a pain in the neck, I read a brilliant article in "Horizon" magazine by an old colleague, William Harlan Hale, on the subject of "togetherness" which also gives him a pain in the neck.

The fact of the matter is that in the up-building period of American history, strong men walked off on their own, through woods and across mountains and deserts to open the land for farming or mining.

Maybe the young fellow took with him his young woman, a horse, a cow and a dog and from that came a civilization. He thought for himself and he did for himself. And what he accomplished still stands strong and firm in the United States.

Of course, even in the old days, there were insecure people who needed to lean on each other and they established communities like Brook Farm and the Oneida Community and the Shaker villages and most of them died because they were not really needed.

But the families that crossed the continent in covered wagons, even if they traveled in such wagon trains as my friend, Ward Bond, portrays on television, were individuals, strong in character, fearless of man or nature, believing in God's mercy so that when a dozen or so of them settled in a place, they built a church and a schoolhouse.

But each one's farm house was a separate place, fairly distant from his neighbor, so that no one could look into his window or listen to his conversation through a makeshift wall.

Now, in these down-going days, when our children speak of themselves as beatniks and when everybody has to belong to societies and unions and carry all kinds of tickets in their pockets, togetherness has become fashionable.

The individual stands out in our society like a rare creature. It is like when the girl who dresses with taste is called a square. She wonder what they are up to— and well we might.

It is not, of course, unpleasant to associate with delightful people but this business of togetherness often goes beyond association, for what seems most necessary to be regarded as delightful is to think, to speak, to believe, to give the appearance of believing as the common denominator of the group does, which usually is that the least intelligent prevails.

A conversation among Americans often sinks to the level of defining well-established terms, with someone interrupting an idea to protest against semantics because he does not understand anything but street-corner English.

It all bogs down into a hopeless mess of argumentativeness in the course of which ignorance usually prevails by its superior numbers.

It used to be the pride of an American that he stood alone, a man with his God, seeking his way of life according to his will and his conscience.

Today, so much is being reduced to groups, committees, organizations, fashions — togetherness.

Cornell University is authority for this fish story and they swear its true: Starfish slide their stomachs outside their mouths, invite a tasty clam or other morsel to come in and then slide their stomachs back inside for digestion.

The oldest tree in the White House grounds was an elm planted by John Quincy Adams.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

TWO ADVERTISING tycoons, dining in an expensive restaurant that befitted their expense accounts, fell into a violent argument. One beckoned a waiter to ask, "Could you lend us a dime to settle a bet?"

The waiter produced the dime, the coin was flipped, the argument settled—and eventually the check was produced. One item thereon startled the tycoons—even though they were only signing the agency's name. It read, "Loan of a dime: 25c."

Cedric Adams tells of two dauntless fishermen who were trolling for muskellunge on a lake in northern Minnesota. The muskies were vicious that day, and snapping at everything—but they absolutely refused to be hooked.

"I say we quit," said one fisherman finally. "Okay by me," agreed the other. "I don't mind them having Sunday dinner off my bait, but what gets me is when they shove their heads up, lean back on their flippers, and use my line for dental floss!"

How To Keep Healthy During Holiday Rush

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

BEFORE you set out on your annual Christmas shopping spree this year, let me give you a few hints that may save you time, energy and headaches.

The holiday season, especially the week between Christmas and the New Year, is pretty rough, both physically and mentally, on most of us.

Must Be Healthy

Your general health should be on a high plane to see you through the hustle and bustle with no serious after-effects. So I don't want you worn out by shopping before the holidays even begin.

Everyone always plans to beat the "Christmas rush," of course, but how many of us actually do it? This year really buckle down and get your shopping completed early. Those hectic days the week before Christmas can leave you completely fagged, if you let your shopping go until the last minute.

Shop Fridays

But whenever you decide to shop, you might try to make it on a Friday. In general, stores are less crowded on Friday. And I think you'll find that crowds are smaller before 11:30 a. m. and after 3:30 p. m.

Now, chances are that, no matter how early you start, your shopping will carry you into the lunch hours. While you should have fortified yourself with a substantial breakfast before setting out, you should also take sufficient time to relax and enjoy your noon meal.

Busiest time for most restaurants is from noon to 1 p. m. So, if possible, try to arrange your lunch hour either before or after this time.

How to Dress

You should dress warmly enough for the weather, but not overdress. Remember, you will be inside much of the time. And, for heaven's sake, wear sensible shoes!

But the real secret of saving time and energy on these shopping trips is to organize them well in advance.

Decide as well as you can what you want to get for each friend and relative. Then jot down the proposed present opposite the name of each recipient. You probably will change your mind about some presents, once you see all the gifts available, but this type of planning should be very helpful.

Shop Alone

Usually it's best to shop alone. You get more done at a faster pace if you don't have to wait for someone else to make up his mind.

Finally, try to get home early enough to have time to sit down and relax before you start preparing the evening meal. Take time to drink a glass of fruit juice, or a glass of milk. You'll be surprised at how it will refresh you.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

R. O.: Would it be of any benefit for my twelve-year-old son to have his teeth given the fluoride treatment? Our city water has never been treated.

Answer: Most dentists believe that fluoride treatment of the teeth at any age, when the water supply is not fluoridized, is of benefit in decreasing the susceptibility to dental caries (cavities).

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — That old Nikita Khrushchev. American taxpayers ought to be good and mad at him. If he'd just act nice, if he'd just quiet down—. But no. He keeps acting up and costing us money.

Here was President Eisenhower saying just about a month ago—and very firmly too—that in his last two years in office he'd fight as hard as he could to keep down federal spending.

That was Nov. 5, the day after the elections. Eisenhower wasn't happy about the election returns. But he said the Democrats the voters chose were spenders, and "that is what I say is going to be the real trouble."

As for himself, he said this: "For the next two years, the Lord spare me, I am going to fight this (spending) as hard as I know how, and if we don't, I just say that,

well, in the long run, everybody else that is responsible has got to fight it."

Since this year government spending is running around 80 billion dollars, and the Defense Department is spending just about half the 80 billion, what place seemed more likely for real economy than that department?

And maybe Eisenhower and his advisers thought some cuts could be made there. But then old Premier Khrushchev started cutting up again, talking about getting the Allies out of Berlin.

He sounded so mean about it, and so insistent, that the United States can't at this minute know what it's in for, or how rough things will get, but it does know it can't afford to take chances with defense.

Secretary of Defense Neil H.

McElroy visited Eisenhower last week in Georgia. McElroy is a dutiful subordinate. He knows Eisenhower wants economy, and apparently McElroy had been looking every which way to save a penny.

But when he got all through talking to Eisenhower, McElroy talked to newsmen and he said, first, it would be pretty rough trying to keep defense spending down to this year's level of nearly 41 billion dollars.

And then, second, he indicated that next year his department might have to increase, not decrease, its spending and wind up shoveling out a billion dollars more than this year.

So where is Eisenhower going to practice the economy he pledged himself to? In foreign aid? Probably not. And no wonder.

The Eisenhower administration itself has tentatively put together a foreign aid package calling for $4,200,000,000 to $4,300,000,000 for the fiscal year starting next July 1. That, too, would be a billion dollars more than the $3,300,000,000 Congress voted this year.

It was the Democrats whom Eisenhower labeled the spenders. But even before those Democrats have a chance to take their seats in the new Congress, the Eisenhower administration is talking of spending more money than last year in the two vital areas of defense and foreign aid.

It looks as if not only McElroy but Eisenhower too is going to have a pretty rough time keeping down expenses, although Eisenhower has dedicated his remaining years in office to economy.

Maurice Connell Gets No. 2

Post in DiSalle Officialdom

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Maurice J. Connell, a greying personable 43-year-old bachelor, will be the No. 2 man of the DiSalle administration in the Ohio capitol.

Gov. elect Michael V. DiSalle today named Connell to the post of assistant to the governor, effective on inauguration day, Jan. 12.

The appointment, first to be announced by the state's first four-year governor-to-be, came in the midst of a two-day round of receptions, dinners and luncheons with DiSalle as host.

Other major appointments—those of state department directors—still are a week to 10 days away, DiSalle told newsmen. He added, however, that his own personal staff in the governor's office will be somewhat smaller than the staff employed by Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill at a total annual salary of $58,000.

Today, DiSalle is entertaining Ohio's 88 Democratic county chairmen and more than 150 members of the Democratic state central and executive committees. A luncheon conference, an afternoon discussion, and a dinner meeting are on tap.

It also was a get-acquainted session. Newly elected Democratic state officials and congressmen were on deck to meet the state's political leaders.

Mr. and Mrs. DiSalle entertained about 50 Ohio newsmen and their wives Monday night at a reception and dinner.

Connell, whose job it will be to take much of the routine load off DiSalle's back, has worked with the governor-elect for a number of years.

He was administrative assistant to DiSalle while the governor-elect was federal price administrator during a 15-month period of the Lorean conflict. Later, he was active on the committee in DiSalle's unsuccessful bid for the U. S. Senate in 1952.

In 1956, Connell was coordinator of DiSalle's first campaign for the governor's chair.

This year, Connell was executive director of the DiSalle for Governor Campaign Committee.

Connell is a brother of Lucas County Common Pleas Judge Geraldine Macelwane, the only woman to occupy that bench in the history of the county.

Maybe the young fellow took with him his young woman, a horse, a cow and a dog and from that came a civilization. He thought for himself and he did for himself. And what he accomplished still stands strong and firm in the United States.

Of course, even in the old days, there were insecure people who needed to lean on each other and they established communities like Brook Farm and the Oneida Community and the Shaker villages and most of them died because they were not really needed.

But the families that crossed the continent in covered wagons, even if they traveled in such a wagon as my friend, Ward Bond, portrays on television, were individualists, strong in character, fearless of man or nature, believing in God's mercy so that when a dozen or so of them settled in a place, they built a church and a schoolhouse.

But each one's farm house was a separate place, fairly distant from his neighbor, so that no one could look into his window or listen to his conversation through a makeshift wall.

Now, in these down-going days, when our children speak of themselves as beatniks and when everybody has to belong to societies and unions and carry all kinds of tickets in their pockets, togetherness has become fashionable.

The individualist stands out in our society like a rare creature. It is like when the girl who dresses with taste is called a square. She doesn't belong. Belong to what? Of course, to togetherness.

Hale says it all started with the slogan "The family that prays together stays together."

If he right, then America has always been wrong, because in this country people did not pray together but each according to his conscience and it was not unusual for members of a family to belong to different sects which is how we got about 260 or more varieties of Protestants and six or seven varieties of Jews which is something unheard of in a European country.

Similarly, whoever invented that slogan was sadly mistaken about staying together because that is something that Americans never did. They moved away. The nest was constantly being cleared of its young.

Connecticut people moved to Ohio and thence as far as California. Western New York was settled by folks from southern Massachusetts. Virginians moved into Kentucky and thence to Indiana and even Illinois which is what happened to one, Thomas Lincoln, who in due course produced a son, Abraham Lincoln, who became probably the greatest personality in the whole of American history.

In the old days when a son left home, it was as probable as not that one might not hear from him for a year or two; but nowadays, with a telephone at every crossroads, we worry ourselves sick if the children do not phone, because realizing that their morals are no stronger than their traditions, we

TWO ADVERTISING tycoons, dining in an expensive restaurant that befitted their expense accounts, fell into a violent argument. One beckoned a waiter to ask, "Could you lend us a dime to settle a bet?"

The waiter produced the dime, the coin was flipped, the argument settled—and eventually the check was produced. One item thereon startled the tycoons—even though they were only signing the agency's name. It read, "Loan of a dime: 25c."

Cedric Adams tells of two dauntless fishermen who were trolling for muskellunge on a lake in northern Minnesota. The muskies were vicious that day, and snapping at everything—but they absolutely refused to be hooked.

"I say we quit," said one fisherman finally. "Okay by me," agreed the other. "I don't mind them having Sunday dinner off my bait, but what gets me is when they shove their heads up, lean back on their flippers, and use my line for dental floss!"

wonder what they are up to—and we might.

It is not, of course, unpleasant to associate with delightful people but this business of togetherness often goes beyond association, for what seems most necessary to be regarded as delightful is to think, to speak, to believe, to give the appearance of believing as the common denominator of the group does, which usually is that the least intelligent prevails.

A conversation among Americans often sinks to the level of defining well-established terms, with someone interrupting an idea to protest against semantics because he does not understand anything but street-corner English.

It all bogs down into a hopeless mess of argumentativeness in the course of which ignorance usually prevails by its superior numbers.

It used to be the pride of an American that he stood alone, one man with his God, seeking his way of life according to his will and his conscience.

Today, so much is being reduced to groups, committees, organizations, fashions — togetherness.

How To Keep Healthy During Holiday Rush

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

BEFORE you set out on your annual Christmas shopping spree this year, let me give you a few hints that may save you time, energy and headaches.

The holiday season, especially the week between Christmas and the New Year, is pretty rough, both physically and mentally, on most of us.

Must Be Healthy

Your general health should be on a high plane to see you through the hustle and bustle with no serious after-effects. So I don't want you worn out by shopping before the holidays even begin.

Everyone always plans to beat the "Christmas rush," of course, but how many of us actually do it? This year really buckle down and get your shopping completed early. Those hectic days the week before Christmas can leave you completely fagged, if you let your shopping go until the last minute.

Shop Fridays

But whenever you decide to shop, you might try to make it on a Friday. In general, stores are less crowded on Friday. And I think you'll find that crowds are smaller before 11:30 a. m. and after 3:30 p. m.

Now, chances are that, no matter how early you start, your shopping will carry you into the lunch hours. While you should have fortified yourself with a substantial breakfast before setting out, you should also take sufficient time to relax and enjoy your noon meal.

Busiest time for most restaurants is from noon to 1 p. m. So, if possible, try to arrange

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — That old Nikita Khrushchev. American taxpayers ought to be good and mad at him. If he'd just act nice, if he'd just quiet down—. But no. He keeps acting up and costing us money.

Here was President Eisenhower saying just about a month ago—and very firmly too—that in his last two years in office he'd fight as hard as he could to keep down federal spending.

That was Nov. 5, the day after the elections. Eisenhower wasn't happy about the election returns. But he said the Democrats the voters chose were spenders, and "that is what I say is going to be the real trouble."

As for himself, he said this: "For the next two years, the Lord spare me, I am going to fight this (spending) as hard as I know how, and if we don't, I just say that,

well, in the long run, everybody else that is responsible has got to fight it."

Since this year government spending is running around 80 billion dollars, and the Defense Department is spending just about half the 80 billion, what place seemed more likely for real economy than that department?

And maybe Eisenhower and his advisers thought some cuts could be made there. But then old Premier Khrushchev started cutting up again, talking about getting the Allies out of Berlin.

He sounded so mean about it, and so insistent, that the United States can't at this minute know what it's in for, or how rough things will get, but it does know it can't afford to take chances with defense.

Secretary of Defense Neil H.

Maurice Connell Gets No. 2 Post in DiSalle Officialdom

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Maurice J. Connell, a greying personable 43-year-old bachelor, will be the No. 2 man in the DiSalle administration in the Ohio capitol.

Gov. elect Michael V. DiSalle today named Connell to the post of assistant to the governor, effective on inauguration day, Jan. 12.

The appointment, first to be announced by the state's first four-year governor-to-be, came in the midst of a two-day round of receptions, dinners and luncheons with DiSalle as host.

Other major appointments — those of state department directors — still are a week to 10 days away, DiSalle told newsmen. He added, however, that his own personal staff in the governor's office will be somewhat smaller than the staff employed by Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill at a total annual salary of $38,000.

Today, DiSalle is entertaining Ohio's 88 Democratic county chairmen and more than 150 members of the Democratic state central and executive committees. A luncheon conference, an afternoon discussion, and a dinner meeting are on tap.

It also was a get-acquainted session. Newly elected Democratic state officials and congressmen were on deck to meet the state's political leaders.

Mr. and Mrs. DiSalle entertained about 50 Ohio newsmen and their wives Monday night at a reception and dinner.

Connell, whose job it will be to take much of the routine load off DiSalle's back, has worked with the governor-elect for a number of years.

He was administrative assistant to DiSalle while the governor-elect was federal price administrator during a 15-month period of the Lorean conflict. Later, he was active on the committee in DiSalle's unsuccessful bid for the U. S. Senate in 1952.

In 1956, Connell was coordinator of DiSalle's first campaign for the governor's chair.

This year, Connell was executive director of the DiSalle for Governor Campaign Committee.

Connell is a brother of Lucas County Common Pleas Judge Geraldine Macelwane, the only woman to occupy that bench in the history of the county.

IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD.

McElroy visited Eisenhower last week in Georgia. McElroy is a dutiful subordinate. He knows Eisenhower wants economy, and apparently McElroy had been looking every which way to save a penny.

But when he got all through talking to Eisenhower, McElroy talked to newsmen and he said, first, it would be pretty rough trying to keep defense spending down to this year's level of nearly 41 billion dollars.

And then, second, he indicated that next year his department might have to increase, not decrease, its spending and wind up shoveling out a billion dollars more than this year.

So where is Eisenhower going to practice the economy he pledged himself to? In foreign aid? Probably not. And no wonder.

The Eisenhower administration itself has tentatively put together a foreign aid package calling for $4,200,000,000 to $4,300,000,000 for the fiscal year starting next July 1. That, too, would be a billion dollars more than the $3,300,000,000 Congress voted this year.

It was the Democrats whom Eisenhower labeled the spenders. But even before those Democrats have a chance to take their seats in the new Congress, the Eisenhower administration is talking of spending more money than last year in the two vital areas of defense and foreign aid.

It looks as if not only McElroy but Eisenhower too is going to have a pretty rough time keeping down expenses, although Eisenhower has dedicated his remaining years in office to economy.

U. S. Jewelers Expect To Set Sales Records

7 Pct. Increase During Holiday Is Anticipated by Trade

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's jewelers say they expect to set sales records this Christmas.

The Jewelry Industry Council reports today its members anticipate a 7 per cent sales increase in holiday business, which would pull the year's total to a new high.

The Thanksgiving-to-Christmas period is all important to the retail jeweler. In this period he normally chalks up 28 per cent of his sales for the year. Any letdown in Christmas spirit by consumers could spell disaster as far as the year's profits go.

But this year Albert E. Haase, president of the Council, says most of the nation's 24,000 retail jewelers are solidly optimistic.

Business recessions usually spell trouble for the merchants of decoration and tableware. But the most recent one saw scarcely a bobble.

The low point of the Depression, 1933, saw sales slide to 175 million dollars. Since the war they have never fallen below one billion a year, but the postwar low was the recession year of 1949, when they stood at 1 1/4 billion.

The Council also has figured sales per capita as the nation's population has grown. In 1929 it was $4.40; last year it was at a peak of $9.95.

Haase points out other factors. One is the growing pre-marriage market. Teen-agers and those in their early 20s have been urged to dress up with jewelry and to lay in a store of silverware.

The steady growth in the school population has had two effects. Buying of graduation watches and other gifts helped swell jewelers' profits. And the Council holds that "the rise of the education level in the country has produced a proportionate rise in the taste level."

The high postwar marriage rate and the spurt in the birth rate has played a big part. And jewelers expect a real marriage boom to start in 1960.

Hopes for this month's increased sales are based on still another factor. Jewelers, along with many other retailers, regard this as a beginning of a new era of elegance.

People . . . Places . . . and Things

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Hunters of today would have had more game than they could kill if they had lived in 1822 when a squirrel plague caused widespread destruction to crops over much of Ohio. The southern part of Ohio, including Fayette County, was particularly hard hit.

Reports coming down through the years tell of millions of gray squirrels, which seemed to come in from all sides, and particularly from Kentucky and West Virginia.

It is claimed the animals swam the Ohio river in countless numbers and literally destroyed all crops as they advanced northward like a horde of locusts or grasshoppers. They could even be compared with the huge black crickets which threatened the crops of the Mormons at Salt Lake City until great flocks of gulls appeared and destroyed the insects.

Early historians say the settlers had no chance to save their crops from the invading squirrels. Killing the hordes with rifles was a slow process.

In fact it is recounted that in Franklin County a hunt was organized with comparatively few taking part, yet 19,660 squirrels were killed.

One historian declares: "There had not been an unusual number of squirrels in the woods the year before, and only an average number were observable the following year."

"But in the year of the squirrel plague the bushy tails came like an irresistible army of invasion, lying waste every foot of the territory they invested. They spared nothing. They utterly annihilated the crops of every kind."

However the squirrel nuisance was one that remained with the early residents of this community, for a great many years, and a half century ago they were still quite plentiful.

However some 65 to 70 years ago the fox squirrels started occupying this area, and eventually drove the gray squirrels out since the fox squirrel were larger and much stronger than the gray variety, the latter fled rather than be killed.

Now a gray squirrel in the woods of the county is a rarity, although there are still many in the hill areas to the south.

WATER ABUNDANT

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Lanman, who for many years have lived on the W. C. Custis farm in Lees Creek Valley, Green Township, never have any worries about an abundant water supply for household use and for livestock.

The reason—there are two artesian or flowing wells on the farm, and water in a third well in the barn stands within a few feet of the top of the ground at all times.

Not even in the serious drought months in the thirties did the wells cease flowing. The flow is strong at all times, but on occasions in very wet weather, the wells simply overflow and spread over the ground for some distance. This happened during the abnormal rainfall late last spring.

One of the wells, all of which are drilled, is 30 feet deep and overflows into a basin and keeps a tile ditch flowing at all times. The ditch empties into Lees Creek, which is 300 yards east of the Lanman home.

The two flowing wells are about 500 yards apart, and recently when Chief Vaiden Long and I inspected them (Mrs. Lanman is the daughter of Chief and Mrs. Long). The water was boiling up out of the four or five inch casing of the well, and overflowing into the tile ditch three feet below the surface.

There are probably other flowing wells in the area, because a large section of country is in a basin, with higher ground on all sides except the south, and while the basin is drained by Lees Creek, the underground reservoir appears to be an unusually large one, and probably contains more water than any other similar area in Fayette County.

REAL COYOTE KILLED

Recently a coyote was killed by A. J. Dunkle a few miles north of Circleville.

Dunkle shot the animal when it sought to escape from a party of hunters in a nearby woods, and so far as known it is the first coyote killed in Pickaway County in at least 100 years.

It is now 111 years since the last wolf native to Fayette County was killed on the banks of Sugar Creek in 1847.

During the early days the wolves were many, although they usually fled when any one approached. They were not considered too dangerous for they had plenty of food on all sides until long after the pioneers built their first log cabins here.

The Rev. Patterson Speaks
At December Meeting of DAR

Thirty-five members of the Washington C. H. chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution and their guests were cordially welcomed by Mrs. Richard P. Rankin Monday afternoon when she opened her country home for the December meeting.

Mrs. Byron L. Hinton, regent, assisted by the chaplain, Miss Golda Baughn, opened the meeting in ritualistic form.

Mrs. Harold Slagle, flag chairman, led the group in the pledge of allegiance, which was followed by the singing of one verse of the National Anthem.

Mrs. Thomas H. Parrett read a Christmas message to the chapter from the state regent, Mrs. Charles R. Petree.

The secretary's report was given by Mrs. J. Earl McLean.

Mrs. O. D. Farquhar, national defense chairman, used an article from the Ohio chairman of defense, Mrs. G. F. Duryee, which touched on "Cultural Exchanges" and "Surface Values."

The regent reminded the members to give sales tax stamps to Miss Elizabeth Shoop of the ways and means committee in dues are now payable. Dues must be sent to the National Society before Jan. 1.

A letter concerning "Friends of the Museum" was read after which the chapter voted a $3 contribution.

Mrs. John D. Forsythe, approved schools chairman, will send Christmas gifts to the children of Murrow Orphanage at Bacone Indian College Grounds.

Three members were reported ill and members were asked to send cards to Mrs. Roy Sollars, Mrs. F. D. Woollard and Mrs. E. F. Todhunter.

Chapter historian, Mrs. Oscar Beatty, paid special tribute to Theodore Roosevelt, politician and 26th president of the United States.

The regent, Mrs. Hinton, expressed thanks to Mrs. Rankin for her hospitality and then turned the meeting over to Mrs. McLean, who introduced the guest speaker for the afternoon, the Rev. Donis D. Patterson, rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church. He gave a very inspiring talk on "Religion and the American Christmas of the Twentieth Century," and used an advent wreath, a creche and modern day greeting cards to give visual emphasis to his splendid talk.

The singing of Christmas Carols brought the meeting to a close, and members and their guests were then invited to a hostess table of tea delicacies. Mrs. W. S. Baughn and Mrs. Harry M. Rankin presided over the silver service from opposite ends of the table which was centered with a low arrangement of scarlet and white carnations.

Guests were Mrs. Sada Baker, and Julia, David and Senath Rankin.

Mrs. Rankin was assisted by Mrs. Walter P. Thompson, Mrs. Edgar Korn.

Baptist Youth Attend
Ohio BYF Convention

Robert Caplinger, president of the Clinton Assn. Baptist Youth Fellowship was the Association's delegate to the 14 annual Ohio Convention of Baptist Youth Fellowship held at the First Baptist Church, in Youngstown.

Others attending the convention were Rosemary Caplinger, Jerry Wood, Richard Klever of the Calvary Baptist Church, Good Hope; and Cora Lee Shaw, of the First Baptist Church, Washington C. H.

The group left early Friday morning and returned late Sunday evening.

When you are adding dry mustard to a salad dressing, stir it into a tiny bit of water and allow it to stand about 10 minutes to mellow before adding it to the other ingredients.

Jeff Progress Club Enjoys Book Reviews

Mrs. Neal Conner entertained members of the Jeffersonville Progress Club at their regular meeting.

The business session was conducted by the first vice president, Mrs. John Cummins.

The roll call was answered by each member naming their favorite teacher.

Miss Louise Fultz gave a report on the book "Bending the Twig," by Augustin Rudd. The author, now living in New York City gives a parent's view of progressive education.

The book "Where Did You Go? Out," by Robert Paul Smith, was reviewed. The author takes the reader in retrospect to childhood with all its universal and sometimes most amusing appraisal of adult actions.

Guests were Mrs. Ralph Davidson, Mrs. Richard Craig and Mrs. Sam Fiechthorn.

A social hour followed the serving of refreshments.

You can steam foods two ways: in a heavy pan with a tight-fitting cover with just enough liquid to create steam; or in a perforated vessel over a small amount of boiling water in a covered kettle.

Set squares of chocolate to be melted in a custard cup in a small skillet holding about an inch of hot water. No need to wash a big pan!

Angelique announces the newest form of soap in the world—Push-button perfumed cream soap

Not since the formulation of soap itself has there been bigger news in hand and face soap. Angelique has perfected a light and fluffy cream form of soap which is dispensed from a push-button container. Because it is a cream rather than a bar soap, Perfumed Cream Soap can be formulated with far more lanolin than bar soap. The resulting cosmetic benefits to face as well as hands makes it an important beauty discovery as well as a remarkable new kind of soap. MORE HYGIENIC THAN BAR SOAP The push-button container dispenses just the amount that is needed, hands never touch the rest of the soap. It's like using a fresh bar each time. And Angelique Perfumed Cream Soap is more economical. It cannot melt, costs less than a half-cent per application! LATHERS IN COLD WATER This remarkable new soap produces a white, billowy lather instantly in any type of water—hard or soft, cold as well as hot. It cleans efficiently but never leaves hands rough and dry. Thanks to an exclusive ingredient which makes lanolin adhere to skin after washing and drying, it is a lotion and soap in one! FOUR ANGELIQUE SCENTS Perfumed cream soap is delicately scented to match Angelique's four famous perfume fragrances—Black Satin, Pink Satin, White Satin and Red Satin. IDEAL FOR TRAVEL Air Tests have proven Angelique perfumed cream soap a good traveler... never leaking or spilling... and there's no need to take lotion along, for it doubles as a soap and a lanolin-rich hand lotion. And used as a face soap, it creams the skin as it cleanses, softens it with lanolin, providing a perfect base for powder. CONTAINER IS WATER-PROOF The label of the package has been specially treated to protect it against wet hands. The container itself is handsome as well as convenient, an attractive addition to any bathroom. Colors of the package match each of the four fragrances—black, pink, red and white with gold trim and a gold metal cap. UNUSUAL GIFT ITEM This newest of new soaps makes a thoughtful bread-and-butter gift, a lovely shower gift. THIS BEAUTIFUL PACKAGE is now available at our Cosmetic Department. It contains 350 applications of soap and costs only $1.50 (no Federal Tax).

The business session was conducted by the first vice president, Mrs. John Cummins.

The roll call was answered by each member naming their favorite teacher.

Miss Louise Fultz gave a report on the book "Bending the Twig," by Augustin Rudd. The author, now living in New York City gives a parent's view of progressive education.

The book "Where Did You Go? Out," by Robert Paul Smith, was reviewed. The author takes the reader in retrospect to childhood with all its universal and sometimes most amusing appraisal of adult actions.

Angelique announces the newest form of soap in the world—Push-button perfumed cream soap

Not since the formulation of soap itself has there been bigger news in hand and face soap. Angelique has perfected a light and fluffy cream form of soap which is dispensed from a push-button container. Because it is a cream rather than a bar soap, Perfumed Cream Soap can be formulated with far more lanolin than bar soap. The resulting cosmetic benefits to face as well as hands makes it an important beauty discovery as well as a remarkable new kind of soap. MORE HYGIENIC THAN BAR SOAP The push-button container dispenses just the amount that is needed, hands never touch the rest of the soap. It's like using a fresh bar each time. And Angelique Perfumed Cream Soap is more economical. It cannot melt, costs less than a half-cent per application! LATHERS IN COLD WATER This remarkable new soap produces a white, billowy lather instantly in any type of water — hard or soft, cold as well as hot. It cleans efficiently but never leaves hands rough and dry. Thanks to an exclusive ingredient which makes lanolin adhere to skin after washing and drying, it is a lotion and soap in one! FOUR ANGELIQUE SCENTS Perfumed cream soap is delicately scented to match Angelique's four famous perfume fragrances—Black Satin, Pink Satin, White Satin and Red Satin. IDEAL FOR TRAVEL Air Tests have proven Angelique perfumed cream soap a good traveler...never leaking or spilling...and there's no need to take lotion along, for it doubles as a soap and a lanolin-rich hand lotion. And used as a face soap, it softens the skin as it cleanses, it creams it with lanolin, providing a perfect base for powder. CONTAINER IS WATER-PROOF The label of the package has been specially treated to protect it against wet hands. The container itself is handsome as well as convenient, an attractive addition to any bathroom. Colors of the package match each of the four fragrances — black, pink, red and white with gold trim and a gold metal cap. UNUSUAL GIFT ITEM This newest of new soaps makes a thoughtful broad-and-butter gift, a lovely shower gift. THIS BEAUTIFUL PACKAGE is now available at our Cosmetic Department. It contains 350 applications of soap and costs only $1.50 (no Federal Tax).

Cincy Bearcat Cagers Resume Winning Habit

Queen City Quintet Cops Opener; Miami Falters in Its Start

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Cincinnati's Bearcats have taken up where they left off last season, but Miami of Ohio hasn't found it that easy.

Resuming the winning habit they momentarily dropped in the NCAA tournament this spring, the Bearcats rolled ruggedly but thoroughly over Indiana State Monday night, 93-64.

With new fast-break tactics and all-American Oscar Robertson in a new pivot role, Cincinnati was in charge all the way. Oscar, 15 pounds heavier as he took the home floor for the first time this season, put his collegiate total over the 1,000-point mark with a 41-point effort.

But at Oxford, the defending Mid-American Conference champions from Miami fell behind early in the final period and lost to visiting Eastern Kentucky 78-73. Dale Moore of the Kentuckians poured in 29 points to lead scoring.

Staubenville's Barons, who tonight meet Mount St. Mary, the only team to beat them a year ago, decisively downed St. Michael's at Burlington, Vt., 81-63.

Elsewhere, a number of Ohio colleges took each other on.

Toledo built up a winning margin in the final five minutes to give a home crowd the pleasure of watching a 68-56 win over Baldwin-Wallace. Kent State overcame a 10-0 deficit to beat Youngstown 53-51.

Also successful on the home floor were Mount Union and Muskingum.

At Alliance, the Mounts fought off Geneva College of Pennsylvania 86-74, and at New Concord, Muskingum's Muskies made it no contest with an 84-44 rout of visiting Western Reserve.

Elsewhere, Findlay piled up the highest total of the night in pounding Malone College of Canton 116-60, and Wilberforce put down Bliss Business College of Columbus 83-79. At Pikeville, Ky., Pikeville College also broke the 100-mark with a 107-79 victory over Central State of Ohio.

Tom Marshall Succeeds Wanzer As Royals Coach

CINCINNATI (AP) — Bobby Wanzer, coach of the lackluster pro basketball Cincinnati Royals, He said, "I expected it."

"We were losing and there was nothing else that could be done. When it comes down to the final wire, you can't fire the ball players, so only one guy is expendable."

His successor is veteran Tom Marshall, 27-year-old Western Kentucky grad, and in sports — one of the team's best point-makers this season.

He inherits a team that has won only 3 of 18 games this season and is firmly in the Western Division cellar of the National Basketball Association.

Wanzer, 35, is a former Seion Hall whiz who graduated to eight years of stardom with the Royals at Rochester, N. Y. He was in his fourth year as coach.

Lastaraz Comeback Effort Shattered

NEW YORK (AP) — It seemed so easy from the outside looking in. No more Rocky Marciano. The champion — heavyweight king Floyd Patterson — didn't appear too formidable. The contenders didn't seem much to beat.

So Roland Lastaraz, still handsome and still hopeful at 31, decided to give it another try.

His boxing comeback may have opened and closed in one night. The New Yorker, who was at one time the top challenger, was soundly beaten Monday night by Larry Zernitz, a plodding prospect from Springfield, Mass., in a 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena.

The verdict was split, but ring-side critics agreed with the majority of officials that Zernitz, in scoring his sixth straight victory had won by a big margin.

Browns Select Linemen in Draft

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Coach Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns sought linemen and defensive backs in the National Football League's player draft. He ended up with five linemen.

"We had several players in mind as defensive backs, but they went to other teams," Brown explained after Monday's draft.

All but one of Cleveland's picks were from the Western Conference. The choices were, in order of their pick, Rich Kreitling, Illinois end; Dick Shafraht, Ohio State tackle and end; Francis O'Brien, Michigan State tackle; Gary Praht, Michigan end; and Dave Lloyd, Georgia center.

"We had our fingers crossed that Rich Kreitling would last until our chance came," Brown said and added:

"Kreitling and Dick Shafraht were our top choices for their particular positions. I have only seen Kreitling on television but all our reports indicate he's a fine pass receiver."

"Shafraht has played several spots in college, but we are thinking of him as an offensive guard. He's big and strong and growing."

"We have known Gary Praht (of Berea) a long time. He has been to our camp and worked on summer conditioning with Lou Groza."

Praht, Brown continued, could be compared with End Jim Gibbons, traded by the Browns to the Detroit Lions.

"Gary was a track man and so he has speed," Brown said.

"In fact," Brown concluded, "I believe he's faster than Gibbons."

Besides Shafraht, other Ohioans drafted Monday were:

Emil Karas, Dayton tackle, to Washington; Dan James, Ohio State center (first round choice from Pittsburgh), to San Francisco; Don Clark, Ohio State halfback, to Chicago Bears; Joe Morrison, Cincinnati halfback, to New York.

LSU Awarded National Title

Overwhelming Vote Goes to Bayou Tigers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Louisiana State, the nation's only major unbeaten-untied team, ran up an overwhelming plurality in the final Associated Press college football poll of 1958 to win its first national championship.

The Bayou Tigers, titans of the Southeastern Conference, collected 139 first-place votes from among the participating 212 sports writers and broadcasters.

Iowa finished second, followed by Army, Auburn, Oklahoma and the Air Force Academy.

Louisiana State will receive the second Associated Press national football championship trophy. Auburn won the first last year.

LSU rolled over 10 opponents, opening with a 26-6 victory over Rice Sept. 20 and closing with a 62-0 annihilation of Tulane Nov. 22. The Tigers had only two close calls — beating Florida 10-7 and Mississippi State 7-6. They scored 275 points to their opponents' 53.

In the national balloting, LSU collected 1,904 points on the usual basis of 10 points for a first place vote, 9 for second, etc. Iowa had 1,459, Army 1,429, Auburn 1,396, Oklahoma 1,200 and the Air Force Academy 800.

Iowa, which will play California in the Rose Bowl, replaced Auburn, which had held second in last week's poll. Auburn squeezed past Alabama 14-8 in its season finale last Saturday.

Army moved up a couple of notches on the strength of its 22-6 victory over Navy. The Cadets' record was marred only by a tie with Pittsburgh. Oklahoma dropped two runs. The Air Force climbed up from eighth after downing Colorado 20-14.

The first 10 was rounded out by Wisconsin, Ohio State, Syracuse and Texas Christian in that order. TCU, upset by Southern Methodist, slipped from seventh place.

The top 10 teams with first-place votes in parentheses:

1. Louisiana State (139) ... 1,904
2. Iowa (17) ... 1,459
3. Army (13) ... 1,429
4. Auburn (9) ... 1,396
5. Oklahoma (10) ... 1,200
6. Air Force (2) ... 800
7. Wisconsin (13) ... 797
8. Ohio State (3) ... 571
9. Syracuse (1) ... 340
10. Texas Christian ... 311

Second 10: Mississippi (2) 303; Clemson (1) 246; Purdue 196; Florida 134; South Carolina 101; California 78; Notre Dame (1) 61; Southern Methodist 52; Oklahoma State 49; Rutgers (1) 46.

Coach Says Spirited Lions Are Ready For Westerville

Coach Gene Millard will make no changes of personnel but hopes to see some changes in the final tally when the WHS Lions meet Westerville Tuesday night.

Starting from a 66-52 defeat in Bexley last Wednesday, the Washington boys have gone through a series of spirited practices, concentrating on defenses, rebounds and turnovers.

Experience gained in their first game of the season and subsequent practice of their faults should make the Lions a more steady team this week.

But the boys have not stuck

Army Giving Eye To OKing Play in Bowls of Future

NEW YORK (AP) — Since the other service academies have established a precedent by accepting invitations to play in football bowl games, Army may be next — when the time is ripe.

The Associated Press has learned from an informed source that influential elements in the Army would like to see the military academy reverse its stand against post-season games.

Army, sought by bowl committees on various occasions, has discouraged such advances in the past. Before the Cadets completed their unbeaten 1958 season, West Point officials made it clear they would not accept an invitation this year.

Navy played bowl games after its 1954 and 1957 seasons. The Air Force Academy, tied but undefeated this year, accepted an invitation to play Texas Christian in the Cotton Bowl.

WCH Bowlers Up Front In Eagles Zone Tourney

Washington C. H. bowlers are among the front runners in all four divisions of the fourth annual central zone Eagles handicap tournament that will come to a close here this coming weekend.

The tourney started a month ago at Bowland with five - man teams taking the alleys on Saturday nights and the doubles and singles events on Sundays.

After four weeks of bowling, the Washington C. H. team sponsored by the Helfrich Market is in second place with 2928 (handicap included) behind the leading Kintz Bros. Grill from Delaware with 3189.

John Speakman and Sam Hite of Washington C. H. are out in front in the doubles with 1271 and another WCH team of Jim Stritenberger and Dick Witherspoon is deadlocked with Robert Elliott and Bill Lutz of Kenton with 1244. Teams from Springfield, Columbus and Buckeye Lake follow in that order.

Al Leach of Washington C. H. is in third place in the singles with 668. Leading the singles scramble is Lewis Mahr of Marion with 699 and in second place is Harry Hoover of Columbus with 673. Bowlers from Delaware, Springfield and Bellefontaine are in fourth, fifth and sixth places.

Leach also is out in front in the all - events with a total 1966. Mahr is second with 1955 and Elliott third with 1537. Hite is in fifth place with 1865.

HOW MANY teams will compete in the tournament will not be known definitely until it is all over next Sunday. The schedule was set up, Glen Verian, the chairman, said, to take care of around five to eight teams on each of the five days. The number of doubles teams and singles bowlers follows closely the number of five - man teams. Scores are based on a three-game series, including handicaps. Six teams are scheduled for Saturday night's closing.

Despite the snow - covered highways, seven teams came from five different cities to roll in the tourney. There were two from Marion, two from Springfield and one each from Bellefontaine, Delaware and Chillicothe.

The highest score of the tourney to date — and one of the high ever rolled at Bowland — was rolled by Clint Beckley of Columbus last Saturday. He turned in a sensational three - game total (actual pins) of 705 while bowling with the Kintz Bros. Grill. Incidentally, he was big help in putting his team on top in the standing.

Beckley hit the pins for games of 211, 239 and 265. He got 14 strikes in a row, but they were spread over two games, six to wind up one and eight to start the next. He did not enter the doubles or singles and, consequently, cannot be considered for the all events.

A group, interested in backing a All Washington High School athletic activities, will hold its organizational meeting in the Gardner Field House at 8 p. m. Wednesday.

The group, so far composed of parents of the basketball team members, would like to see anybody interested in the high school athletic program attend the meeting.

Athletic Boosters To Meet Wednesday

Roy Harris Wins Match Handily

DALLAS (AP) — The last time Texan Roy Harris fought, he finished the 12th round with his face a bloody mess. He failed to answer the bell for the 13th against heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson.

But Monday night the Cut and Shoot battler finished the 12th round with a grin on his unmarked face, coasting to a lopsided 12-round decision over Donnie Fleeman of Midlothian, Tex.

Fleeman, the Texas lightweightweight champion, challenged Harris for his state heavyweight crown with about the same equipment Harris used against Patterson at Los Angeles Aug. 18, courage and courage alone.

Cincy Bearcat Cagers Resume Winning Habit

Queen City Quintet Cops Opener; Miami Falters in Its Start

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Cincinnati's Bearcats have taken up where they left off last season, but Miami of Ohio hasn't found it that easy.

Resuming the winning habit they momentarily dropped in the NCAA tournament this spring, the Bearcats rolled regally but thoroughly over Indiana State Monday night, 93-64.

With new fast-break tactics and all-American Oscar Robertson in a new pivot role, Cincinnati was in charge all the way. Oscar, 15 pounds heavier as he took the home floor for the first time this season, put his collegiate total over the 1,000-point mark with a 41-point effort.

But at Oxford, the defending Mid-American Conference champions from Miami fell behind early in the final period and lost to visiting Eastern Kentucky 78-73. Dale Moore of the Kentuckians poured in 29 points to lead scoring.

Steuenville's Barons, who tonight meet Mount St. Mary, the only team to beat them a year ago, decisively downed St. Michael's at Burlington, Vt., 81-63.

Elsewhere, a number of Ohio colleges took each other on.

Toledo built up a winning margin in the final five minutes to give a home crowd the pleasure of watching a 68-56 win over Baldwin-Wallace. Kent State did the same for the fans at Kent, but needed an overtime to down Youngstown 53-51.

Also successful on the home floor were Mount Union and Muskingum.

At Alliance, the Mounts fought off Geneva College of Pennsylvania 86-74, and at New Concord, Muskingum's Muskies made it no contest with an 84-44 rout of visiting Western Reserve.

Elsewhere, Findlay piled up the highest total of the night in pounding Malone College of Canton 116-60, and Wilberforce put down Bliss Business College of Columbus 83-79. At Pikeville, Ky., Pikeville College also broke the 100-mark with a 107-79 victory over Central State of Ohio.

Tom Marshall Succeeds Wanzer As Royals Coach

CINCINNATI (AP) — Bobby Wanzer, got his walking papers Monday as coach of the lackluster pro basketball Cincinnati Royals. He said, "I expected it."

"We were losing and there was nothing else that could be done. When it comes down to the final wire, you can't fire the ball players, so only one guy is expendable."

His successor is veteran Tom Marshall, 27 - year-old Western Kentucky grad, and — in spurts — one of the team's best point-makers this season.

He inherits a team that has won only 3 of 18 games this season and is firmly in the Western Division cellar of the National Basketball Assn.

Wanzer, 35, is a former Seion Hall whiz who graduated to eight years of stardom with the Royals at Rochester, N. Y. He was in his fourth year as coach.

Lastaraz Comeback Effort Shattered

NEW YORK (AP) — It seemed so easy from the outside looking in. No more Rocky Marciano. The champion — heavyweight king Floyd Patterson — didn't appear too formidable. The contenders didn't seem much to beat.

So Roland Lastaraz, still handsome and still hopeful at 31, decided to give it another try.

His boxing comeback may have opened and closed in one night. The New Yorker, who was at one time the top challenger, was soundly beaten Monday night by Larry Zernitz, a plodding prospect from Springfield, Mass., in a 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena.

The verdict was split, but ring-side critics agreed with the majority of officials that Zernitz, in scoring his sixth straight victory had won by a big margin.

Becfeaters is the popular name given to the bodyguards of the King or Queen of England.

Browns Select Linemen in Draft

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Coach Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns sought linemen and defensive backs in the National Football League's player draft. He ended up with five linemen.

"We had several players in mind as defensive backs, but they went before we got to them," Brown explained after Monday's draft.

All but one of Cleveland's picks were from the Western Conference. The choices were, in order of their pick, Rich Kreitling, Illinois end; Dick Shafraht, Ohio State tackle and end; Francis O'Brien,

Here's Class A All-Ohio Team

Small School Gridders Cited in Selection

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The kids who cavorted for the smaller schools won their rewards today as The Associated Press picked its first all-Ohio Class A football team.

The boys are just as big rugged and fast as those from the larger schools. They come from four-year schools which have 150 or fewer boys, and three-year schools with 115 or fewer boys enrolled.

Here they are, the Class A gridiron jewels:

FIRST TEAM

Offense

Ends — Keith Couch, Berne Union; Ken Beamer, Dennison Sr. Mary.
Tackles — Herman Hugh, Mogadore; Art Morrow, Granville.

LSU Awarded National Title

Overwhelming Vote Goes to Bayou Tigers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Louisiana State, the nation's only major unbeaten-untied team, ran up an overwhelming plurality in the final Associated Press college football poll of 1958 to win its first national championship.

The Bayou Tigers, titans of the Southeastern Conference, collected 139 first-place votes from among the participating 122 sports writers and broadcasters.

Iowa finished second, followed by Army, Auburn, Oklahoma and the Air Force Academy.

Louisiana State will receive the second Associated Press national football championship trophy. Auburn won the first last year.

LSU rolled over 10 opponents, opening with a 26-6 victory over Rice Sept. 20 and closing with a 62-0 annihilation of Tulane Nov. 22. The Tigers had only two close calls — beating Florida 10-7 and Mississippi State 7-6. They scored 275 points to their opponents' 53.

In the national balloting, LSU collected 1,904 points of the usual basis of 10 points for a first place vote, 9 for second, etc. Iowa had 1,459, Army 1,429, Auburn 1,396, Oklahoma 1,200 and the Air Force Academy 800.

Iowa, which will play California in the Rose Bowl, replaced Auburn, which had held second in last week's poll. Auburn squeezed past Alabama 14-8 in its season finale last Saturday.

Army moved up a couple of notches on the strength of its 22-6 victory over Navy. The Cadets' record was marred only by a tie with Pittsburgh. Oklahoma dropped two runs. The Air Force climbed up from eighth after downing Colorado 20-14.

The first 10 was rounded out by Wisconsin, Ohio State, Syracuse and Texas Christian in that order. TCU, upset by Southern Methodist, slipped from seventh place.

The top 10 teams with first-place votes in parentheses:

1. Louisiana State (139) 1,904
2. Iowa (17) 1,459
3. Army (13) 1,429
4. Auburn (9) 1,396
5. Oklahoma (10) 1,200
6. Air Force (2) 800
7. Wisconsin (3) 797
8. Ohio State (3) 571
9. Syracuse (1) 340
10. Texas Christian 311

Second 10: Mississippi (2) 303; Clemson (1) 246; Purdue 196, Florida 134, South Carolina 101, California 78, Notre Dame (1) 61, Southern Methodist 52, Oklahoma State 49, Rutgers (1) 46.

Cleveland Drafts 6-Foot-5 Slugger From Class A Loop

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 6-foot-5 outfielder, Dale Bennett, who hit 22 homers and batted .332 for Williamsport in the Class A Eastern League last season, was the Cleveland Indians' first choice in Monday's drafting of minor league players by major league clubs.

The Tribe's second pick was Ray Webster, a shortstop recommended by Indians' manager Joe Gordon and a 244 hitter for Sacramento in the Pacific Coast League last summer.

The 23-year-old outfielder and 21-year-old shortstop cost Cleveland $25,000 each.

Bennett, a left-handed batter, knocked in 102 runs for Williamsport, but also set a league strikeout record of 112 in 124 games.

Gordon said he saw Webster "quite a bit early last season and I like him a lot. I like his bat mainly. In the field I'd say he is about on a par with Billy Moran, but he will outlast Moran."

Coach Says Spirited Lions Are Ready For Westerville

Coach Gene Millard will make no changes of personnel but hopes to see some changes in the final tally when the WHS Lions meet Westerville Tuesday night.

Starting from a 66-52 defeat in Bexley last Wednesday, the Washington boys have gone through a series of spirited practices, concentrating on defenses, rebounds and turnovers.

Experience gained in their first game of the season and subsequent practice of their faults should make the Lions a more steady team this week.

But the boys have not stuck

Army Giving Eye To OKing Play in Bowls of Future

NEW YORK (AP) — Since the other service academies have established a precedent by accepting invitations to play in football bowl games, Army may be next — when the time is ripe.

The Associated Press has learned from an informed source that influential elements in the Army would like to see the military academy reverse its stand against post-season games.

Army, sought by bowl committees on various occasions, has discouraged such advances in the past. Before the Cadets completed their unbeaten 1958 season, West Point officials made it clear they would not accept an invitation this year.

Navy played bowl games after its 1954 and 1957 seasons. The Air Force Academy, tied but undefeated this year, accepted an invitation to play Texas Christian in the Cotton Bowl.

90 Die in Fire In Chicago School.

"We are trapped. We are trapped," nuns screamed from the windows as they huddled with groups of pupils.

Many children panicked, stampeded to windows. Some leaped to death on sidewalks below.

"Nothing killed those kids but heat and smoke," Quinn said. "They just couldn't get out into the corridor to go downstairs."

Nearly all the eighth-grade class in two upper-floor classrooms perished.

Screams of children trapped on upper floors drifted down to hundreds of horrified spectators and hysterical parents.

Firemen raised ladders and brought down dozens of pupils. Priests, on the scene even before the fire fighters, led out others.

Nuns, with disregard for their own safety, rolled some pupils down staircases. Children ducked to the floor, seeking cool and fresh air, and crawled out. Others groped their way to freedom by grasping hands and belt buckles of classmates and filing out the smoke-filled structure.

For some there was no rescue, however.

"God, we tried. God, how we tried," sobbed one fireman. "But we couldn't move fast enough. No one could live in that fire."

As the bodies were brought down in the eerie, hazy light, parents pushed against police lines, crying, "Where are our children? Where are our children?"

The dead were placed in a courtyard where only a few hours before the children had been laughing and playing.

The injured were taken to seven nearby West Side hospitals. Twenty-two victims died en route to hospitals or soon after arrival.

Sixty-eight bodies were sent directly to the morgue where parents and relatives gathered for the dreaded identification ordeal.

Of the dead 53 were girls and 34 boys. The heroic nuns accounted for the other three.

The U-shaped school at 3808 Iowa St. was built some 40 years ago. It was remodeled about five years ago. Fire officials said the school was checked last October and no violations were found. Exits were adequate, they said, and the ceilings were of wood lath and plaster. There were no false ceilings. The heating plant is fueled by oil.

A single fire escape, with exits from the first and second floors, was in the center of the rear, or east side of the building — the bottom of the U which joined the wings.

As news of the impending disaster spread through the low-income neighborhood, hundreds rushed to the scene. Grief-stricken parents began crashing through police cordons as the dead were removed. Several people fainted in the surging mass of humanity.

Priests walked through the crowd and stood near the doomed building, administering Extreme Unction, last rite of the Catholic Church.

As in most tragedies, there were countless tales of heroism.

A nun, who refused to identify herself, made three trips into the blistering fire, each time leading out six pupils. "I felt untold strength," she told newsmen while being treated for burns at St. Anne's Hospital.

Casimir Janik, 38, a milkman, said an unexplainable impulse made him alter his regular route home. He arrived at the school before firemen. He parked nearby and several times ran into the school, carrying burned children to safety.

"I found one girl, her shoes missing, hanging on to a banister, seemingly in a state of shock," he said. "I yanked her loose, took her to church and placed her on a pew. Twice I carried two girls out, one under each arm."

Students in the school painted a grisly picture of terror.

Linda Barletto, 12, said she was pushed out of a window in a second-floor classroom. "Our backs were burning. Then someone pushed me out the window," she suffered burns and bruises.

Her cousin Andrea Gagliardo, 12, told newsmen, "Some of the boys jumped out the window. When we looked out we saw them lying on the ground. It was like a miracle when we saw the firemen with their ladders."

A boy who lives across from the school, Deroy Hewlett, 13, gave this graphic description: "Kids were hanging from the windows, jumping or falling in groups of three or four at a time. Smoke and flame poured from the windows. A little girl stood at the window of a ledge, screaming for help."

Early reports that there had been an explosion were discounted by firemen. Commissioner Quinn said the boiler room was intact. Then he said, "This could have been a touch-off. It spread too damn rapidly."

Fire investigators were closely checking the story of Mrs. Barbara Glowacki, who operates a candy store adjacent to the school on the north. She said just before she learned about the fire a man came into her store and asked to use a telephone.

The man, said Mrs. Glowacki, ran out quickly, calling out, "The school is on fire," after she told him she had no public telephone.

Police began a search for the man, described as middle-aged. With a toll of 90 the fire is the nation's third most disastrous school tragedy in the last century. The toll is exceeded only by the New London, Tex., explosion and fire which killed 294 March 18, 1937, and the Collinwood school fire which claimed 176 lives March 4, 1908 in Cleveland.

In Chicago it ranked as the second greatest fire killer of the century. On Dec. 30, 1903, 602 persons died when flames swept through the downtown Iroquois Theater.

But Watch Those Holes In 'Exposure' Cards.

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Someday radiation exposure cards will become as much a fixture of wallets and purses as social security cards and drivers' licenses, a meeting of general practitioners was told, Dr. William G. Myers, professor of medical biophysics, said the cards could be similar to meal tickets with squares to punch out for each exposure, such as an X-ray treatment.

90 Die in Fire In Chicago School

"We are trapped. We are trapped," nuns screamed from the windows as they huddled with groups of pupils.

Many children panicked, stampeded to windows. Some leaped to death on sidewalks below.

"Nothing killed those kids but heat and smoke," Quinn said. "They just couldn't get out into the corridor to go downstairs."

Nearly all the eighth-grade class in two upper-floor classrooms perished.

Screams of children trapped on upper floors drifted down to hundreds of horrified spectators and hysterical parents.

Firemen raised ladders and brought down dozens of pupils. Priests, on the scene even before the fire fighters, led out others.

Nuns, with disregard for their own safety, rolled some pupils down staircases. Children ducked to the floor, seeking cool and fresh air, and crawled out. Others groped their way to freedom by grasping hands and belt buckles of classmates, and filing out the smoke-filled structure.

For some there was no rescue, however.

"God, we tried. God, how we tried," sobbed one fireman. "But we couldn't move fast enough. No one could live in that fire."

As the bodies were brought down in the eerie, hazy light, parents pushed against police lines, crying, "Where are our children? Where are our children?"

The dead were placed in a courtyard where only a few hours before the children had been laughing and playing.

The injured were taken to seven nearby West Side hospitals. Twenty-two victims died en route to hospitals or soon after arrival. Sixty-eight bodies were sent directly to the morgue where parents and relatives gathered for the dreaded identification ordeal.

Of the dead 53 were girls and 34 boys. The heroic nuns accounted for the other three.

The U-shaped school at 3808 Iowa St. was built some 40 years ago. It was remodeled about five years ago. Fire officials said the school was checked last October and no violations were found. Exits were adequate, they said, and the ceilings were of wood lath and plaster. There were no false ceilings. The heating plant is fueled by oil.

A single fire escape, with exits from the first and second floors, was in the center of the rear, or east side of the building — the bottom of the U which joined the wings.

As news of the impending disaster spread through the low-income neighborhood, hundreds rushed to the scene. Grief-stricken parents began crashing through police cordons as the dead were removed. Several people fainted in the surging mass of humanity.

Priests walked through the crowd and stood near the doomed building, administering Extreme Unction, last rite of the Catholic Church.

As in most tragedies, there were countless talks of heroism.

A nun, who refused to identify herself, made three trips into the blistering fire, each time leading out six pupils. "I felt untold strength," she told newsmen while being treated for burns at St. Anne's Hospital.

Casimir Janik, 38, a milkman, said an unexplainable impulse made him after his regular route home. He arrived at the school before firemen. He parked nearby and several times ran into the school, carrying burned children to safety.

I found one girl, her shoes missing, hanging on to a banister, seemingly in a state of shock," he said. "I yanked her loose, took her to church and placed her on one under each arm."

Students in the school painted a grisly picture of terror.

Linda Barletto, 12, said she was pushed out of a window in second-floor classroom. "Our backs were burning. Then someone pushed me out the window." She suffered burns and bruises.

Her cousin Andrea Gagliardo, 12, told newsmen, "Some of the boys jumped out the window. When we looked out we saw them lying still on the ground. It was like a miracle when we saw the firemen with their ladders."

A boy who lives across from the school, Deroy Hewlett, 13, gave this graphic description: "Kids were hanging from the windows, jumping or falling in groups of three or four at a time. Smoke and flame poured from the windows. A little girl stood at the window of a ledge, screaming for help."

Early reports that there had been an explosion were discounted by firemen. Commissioner Quinn said the boiler room was intact. Then he said, "This could have been a touch-off. It spread too damn rapidly."

Fire investigators were closely checking the story of Mrs. Barbara Glowacki, who operates a candy store adjacent to the school on the north. She said just before she learned about the fire a man came into her store and asked to use a telephone.

The man, said Mrs. Glowacki, ran out quickly, calling out, "The school is on fire," after she told him she had no public telephone.

Police began a search for the man, described as middle-aged. With a toll of 90 the fire is the nation's third most disastrous school tragedy in the last century. The toll is exceeded only by the New London, Tex., explosion and fire which killed 294 March 18, 1937, and the Collinwood school fire which claimed 176 lives March 4, 1908 in Cleveland.

In Chicago it ranked as the second greatest fire killer of the century. On Dec. 30, 1903, 602 persons died when flames swept through the downtown Iroquois Theater.

Ewbank's Plan Is on Schedule

Baltimore Colt Chief Hopes To Meet Brown

BALTIMORE (AP) — The five-year plan of Coach Web Ewbank is right on schedule.

Since he took over the Baltimore Colts in 1954, the former tackle coach and chief talent scout of the highly-successful Cleveland Browns has said it would take that long to build a title contender.

Today, the Colts are champions of the National Football League's Western Conference. They applied the clincher to their first divisional crown Sunday with a 28-point comeback victory over the San Francisco 49ers.

Actually the Colts were in contention last year until the final game, when they lost to Los Angeles and finished with a 7-5 mark.

When Ewbank arrived in Baltimore he said he took the job with the "sole idea to start a regime" in the NFL. His employers said the aim was to pattern the Colts after the Browns.

Just two years ago, Ewbank came to losing his job.

Ewbank was given a three-year contract after his first team posted a 3-9 record. The 1955 team had a 5-6-1 record but the following year the Colts slipped to 5-7 and there was much speculation the coach would be replaced.

But Colt officials gave him a vote of confidence and retained him.

Last year, Ewbank was signed to a new two-year contract.

Now Ewbank has this goal: a possible meeting with Coach Paul Brown, his former boss at Cleveland, in the Dec. 28 NFL championship game.

In 'Exposure' Cards

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — S o m e - day radiation exposure cards will become as much a fixture of wallets and purses as social security cards and drivers' licenses, a meeting of general practitioners was told. Dr. William G. Myers, professor of medical biophysics, said the cards could be similar to punch out for each exposure, such as an X-ray treatment.

LEGAL NOTICE
 To conform to requirements of Dept. of Agriculture of Ohio, it is proposed that the Constitution and By-Laws of the Fayette County Agricultural Society be amended by the adoption of the following amendments to the Articles and Sections indicated:

1. — Art. III Sec. 1 — By deleting therefrom the words "for the sum of $1.00 from Dec. 10 to 5 days before the Fair."

2. — Art. III Sec. 5 — Shall be amended to read as follows: "Membership certificates may be purchased from Dec. 15 to five (5) days before the Fair at the office of S. W. Fenning, Secretary of the Society, or his successor in office, and from any duly elected and acting Director of the Society, and — or at such other location as may be approved by the Board of Directors."

3. — Art. III Sec. 6 — This is a new section and will read as follows: "Annual meeting of the membership of the Society may be held on the first Saturday of December. Notice of such meeting shall be by publication in a newspaper of general circulation in Fayette County at least two (2) weeks prior to the date of such meeting."

4. — Art. IV Sec. 2 — Shall be amended to read as follows: "The management of the Society shall consist of a Board of thirteen members who shall be designated and referred to in this Constitution and By-Laws as Directors."

Such Directors shall be elected for a term of three years and so arranged that five shall be elected each year, four for two years, and four for one year. Thereafter their successors shall be elected for terms of three years."

5. — Art. V Sec. 2 — By deleting the word "seven" and substituting therefor the word "thirty."

6. — Art. V Sec. 1 — By deleting therefrom the following: "This will serve as Notice of Election, and substituting therefor the following: "The Secretary of the Society shall give notice of such an election for three weeks prior to the holding thereof by publication in two newspapers of opposite politics, if available, of general circulation in Fayette County, or by letter addressed to each member of the Society."

7. — Art. V Sec. 2 — By deleting the words "Announcement of date, time and place of voting, together with —" and also by deleting the words "or by letter to all members."

8. — Art. VII — That this article is deleted and the following be substituted therefor: "The Secretary of the Society shall give notice of such an election for three weeks prior to the holding thereof by publication in two newspapers of opposite politics, if available, of general circulation in Fayette County, or by letter addressed to each member of the Society."

9. — Art. V Sec. 1 — Amendments to the Constitution or By-Laws may be proposed by a majority of the Board of Directors at a scheduled meeting, voting in favor of submitting an amendment.

10. — Art. V Sec. 2 — Filing a petition with the Secretary of the Society at least fourteen (14) days prior to the Annual Meeting of the Society to which such proposed amendments are to be submitted. Said petition must set forth the proposed amendment and be signed by not less than twenty (20) members of the Society.

11. — Art. V Sec. 3 — When more than one amendment shall be submitted at the same time, they shall be submitted as to enable the members to vote on each amendment separately.

12. — Art. V Sec. 4 — The following sections of the By-Laws are proposed to be amended as follows:

1. — Art. IV Sec. 3 — Delete the words "State Board" and use words "Department of Agriculture" in lieu thereof.

2. — Also substitute the word "Department" for the word "Board."

3. — Art. V Sec. 4 — Substitute the word "Department" for the words "Ohio State Board."

4. — Art. VII — New section as follows: "The Board of Directors may adopt such rules and regulations for conducting the business of the Society as it deems proper, which does not conflict with the Constitution, By-Laws, Regulations of the Ohio Department of Agriculture, or laws of the State of Ohio."

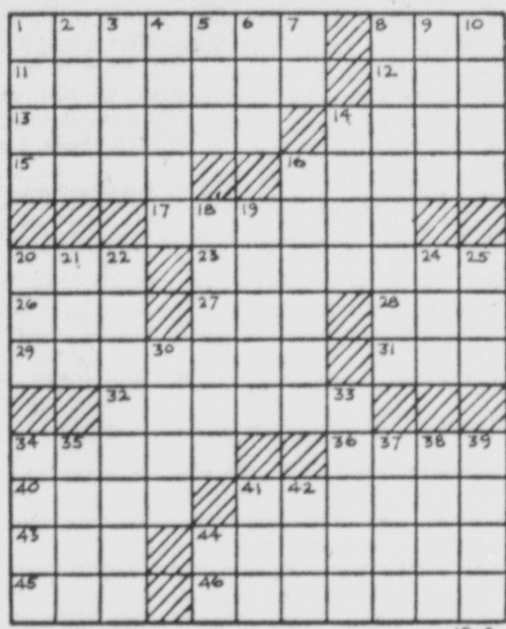

5. — Art. VIII Sec. 2 — Amend by striking out words "These By-Laws" and substitute the words "This order of business."

The above amendments are to be submitted to and acted upon at the meeting of the membership of the Society, Saturday, December 6, 1958 to be held in the Common Pleas Court room at 2:00 p.m.

Attest — S. W. Fenning, Sec'y.

Hot Note Gives Alarm

To Firemen in Class

ANADARKO, Okla. (AP) — Fire Chief Roy Taylor has been called to a lot of fires in a lot of ways, — ever, by a note.

Taylor and other firefighters were attending a class in the latest methods when someone slipped him a carefully written message.

It was dated, and gave the exact location. Firemen rushed from class and put out the blaze.

LEGAL NOTICE
To conform to requirements of Dept. of Agriculture of Ohio, it is proposed that the Constitution and By-Laws of the Fayette County Agricultural Society be amended by the adoption of the following amendments to the Articles and Sections as indicated:

1. — Art. III Sec. 1. — By deleting therefrom the words "for the sum of $1.00 from Dec. 10 to 5 days before the Fair."

2. — Art. III Sec. 1. — Shall be amended to read as follows: "Membership certificates may be purchased from Dec. 15 to five (5) days before the Fair at the office of S. W. Fennig, Secretary of this Society. Notice of such meeting shall be by publication in a newspaper of general circulation in Fayette County at least two (2) weeks prior to the date of such meeting."

3. — Art. III Sec. 1. — Shall be amended to read as follows: "The management of the Society shall consist of a Board of thirteen members who shall be designated and referred to in this Constitution and By-Laws as Directors."

4. — Art. IV Sec. 1. — By deleting the word "seven" and substituting therefor the word "thirty."

5. — Art. IV Sec. 2. — By deleting the word "seven" and substituting therefor the word "thirty."

6. — Art. V Sec. 1. — By deleting the words "Announcement of the date, time and place of voting, together with the names of the candidates for officers and also by deleting the words 'or by letter to all members.'"

7. — Art. VII. — That this article is amended and the following be substituted therefor:

"Sec. 1. — Amendments to the Constitution and By-Laws of the Society shall be proposed by a majority of the Board of Directors at a scheduled meeting, voting in favor of submitting an amendment."

b) Filing a petition with the Secretary of the Society at least fourteen (14) days prior to the Annual Meeting of the Society to which such proposed amendments are to be submitted. Said petition must set forth the proposed amendment and be signed by not less than twenty (20) members of the Society."

Sec. 2. — If an amendment is proposed, it shall be submitted to the membership of the Society at the Annual Meeting of the membership of the Society."

Sec. 3. — When more than one amendment is submitted at the same time, they shall be submitted as to enable the members to vote on each amendment separately. The following sections of the By-Laws are proposed to be amended as follows:

1. — Art. IV Sec. 3. — Delete the words "State Board" and use words "Department of Agriculture" in lieu thereof.

Also substitute the word "Department" for the words "Ohio State Board."

11. — Art. VII. — New section as follows: "The Board of Directors may adopt such rules and regulations for conducting the business of the Society as it deems proper which does not conflict with the Constitution, By-Laws, Regulations of the Ohio Department of Agriculture, or laws of the State of Ohio."

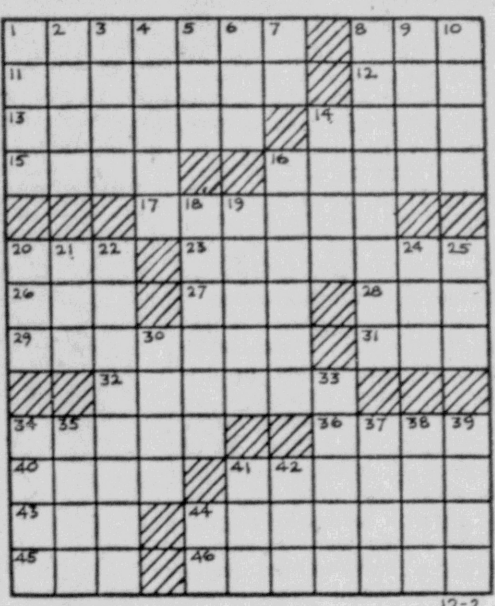

12. — Art. VIII Sec. 2. — Amend by striking out words "These By-Laws" and substitute the words "This order of business."

The above amendments are to be submitted to and acted upon at the meeting of the membership of the Society, Saturday, December 6, 1958, to be held in the Common Pleas Court room at 2:00 p. m. S. W. Fennig, Sec'y, Fayette County Agricultural Society

Board Pays Bills For School Jobs

OKs Expenditures From $23,000 Fund

Expenditures totaling $15,326.25 from a total sum of $23,000 to be borrowed for improvements at new schools were approved by the Washington C. H. Board of Education Monday night.

OK'd for payment was a bill for $6,259.65 from the Sever-Williams Co. for sidewalks already completed at Eastside, Belle Aire, Cherry Hill and Rose Avenue schools; a bill for $8,925.15 from G. D. Baker and Son for grading and surfacing driveways, parking and playground areas at the four schools and an expenditure of $141.45 for a film strip projector to be used at Belle Aire.

The balance of the $23,000 will be used for the purchase of folding chairs, playground equipment, globes, maps and other equipment. Existing playground equipment at the old Eastside school will be moved to the Eastside grounds when weather permits.

ON RECOMMENDATION of Superintendent W. A. Smith, Mrs. Mabel B. Rea, 716 Park Dr., was employed as a substitute teacher in the elementary grades, and Mrs. Mary K. Tate, 1025 Dayton Ave., was employed as a substitute in elementary and high school.

A contract for 1959 typewriter replacement (15 new models at $170 each less $85 each for 15 three-year-old trade-ins) was awarded to the Tammam Typewriter Service, Chillicothe, on a total bid of $1,275 plus $170 for an extra typewriter with large type to be used in preparing elementary school materials.

Only other bid was $1,435. In other action, the board approved $40,011.90 in current bills including payroll; approved payment of $1,905.18 to the Columbus Heating and Ventilating Co. for contract work and $300 to the Sever-Williams Co. for construction.

New Trial Asked In Damage Action

Another request for new trial in the damage action brought by Virginia A. Thompson against Morton S. Titus has been filed by the defendant in Common Pleas Court.

Attorneys for Titus base the request on what is claimed to be new evidence which would appear to question competence of testimony in the original trial.

Miss Thompson, in her original petition, had asked $50,000 damages for injuries received in alleged assault by the defendant. A jury, on Dec. 6, 1957, returned a verdict for a $10,000 judgment, but Judge John P. Case ruled that this was excessive in the amount of $7,500 and held that unless Mrs. Thompson consented to accept $2,500, the court would grant Titus a new trial.

The verdict of the lower court was appealed and the Second District appellate court reversed Judge Case and reinstated the $10,000 verdict.

Titus later asked the Ohio Supreme Court to review the case. His motion to certify is now pending before that body.

In his motion here, Titus asks that the $10,000 jury verdict be set aside and that a new trial be held in the lower court.

Housebreaking Added To Talents Of City Firemen

Raymond Stephens is a man of many talents.

A city fireman by occupation, a barber by trade and a magician by avocation, he added housebreaking to his accomplishments Monday afternoon.

But it was all very legal, in fact very helpful and in line of duty — as a fireman.

A call came to the fire department at 1:15 p. m. asking for help in breaking in a house at 1038 Wilford St. occupied by the Robert Brown family.

The caller explained that the last one out had locked the doors — and left the keys inside.

Stephens couldn't use any magician tricks to go through the door, but he was successful in jimmying a window. The job took him only 15 minutes.

Courts

SUIT ASKS PARTITION

Roseann S. Miller, Palmetto, Fla., has filed an action in Common Pleas Court, asking partition of approximately 425 acres in Jasper Township. Defendants are Iris Lee McKinley, Hermosa Beach, Calif., and Jackson M. Sparks, Albuquerque, N. M.

The plaintiff states that she and the defendants hold one-third interest in the property, devised to them by their grandfather, Grant Marchant. If the land cannot be partitioned without loss, the plaintiff asks that it be appraised, sold and the proceeds distributed.

Ditch and Street Matters Before County Commission

Fayette County commissioners held a routine session at the Courthouse Monday, adjourning to make an afternoon trip to Wilmington where a discussion was held on the proposed Waddle ditch improvement in Fayette and Clinton counties.

Filing of an engineering estimate on costs of the improvement was postponed until Dec. 15.

Attending the conference in Wilmington were County Commissioners Cliff Hughes and Ralph Minton; County Auditor Harry Allen, County Engineer Charles Wagner and Assistant Engineer Gale Helms.

During the regular session here, commissioners discussed recent street improvements with Jeffersonville village officials, pointing out that while the county can provide manpower and equipment for village street projects, it cannot assist in paying for materials.

A scheduled conference with health department representatives relative to needed sanitary improvements in the North Shore and Rosemont Court areas, adjoining the city to the north, was postponed.

Elks' Memorial Services Sunday

The Rev. W. Neil Hand, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will be the speaker when Washington C. H. Lodge No. 129, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, holds its annual memorial service at 2 p. m. Sunday at the lodge room on N. Main St.

Grover Baber, of the Washington High School music faculty, will be vocal soloist.

The public is invited to attend the service, Horace L. Jacobs, exalted ruler of the local lodge, said. Regular meetings of the lodge are scheduled Wednesday night of this week and Wednesday, Dec. 17. The time is 8 p. m.

Open Schools, Clear Roads Follow Warmth

All Miami Trace schools were open and Fayette County roads in "pretty good shape" Tuesday, on the heels of warm temperatures which melted much of the snow in Ohio Monday.

County engineers said only a few slippery spots remain where shade prevented the ice from melting Monday. Crews are salting those areas and pushing large piles of snow back farther from the road, the engineers said.

The Highway Patrol said all roads south of Route 40 are clear. Only scattered patches of ice remain north of that route, the Patrol said.

Hog Prices Drop

Hog prices went down 50 cents since Monday, the ABC Stockyards said Tuesday.

Buyers at the yards are purchasing 180 to 220 pound hogs at $18.50, they said.

Steve Cochran Is Proving Hollywood Characters Exist

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Those who think that Hollywood is losing its characters should take a trip to Steve Cochran's house.

Some place! It's got a swimming pool that looks more like a mountain lake, complete with island. Also 25 animals, including two goats and a deer named Taby.

The house clings to a hillside. The first greeters are Shane, a German shepherd, and his pal Taby, an extremely companionable deer of four months. There are cats all over the place.

Steve appears in blue jeans, dirty shirt and bare feet—he's no beatnik, just likes comfort. He explains about Taby: It was found on a mountain road with rear end smashed by a car. Steve adopted it, had a vet fix its hind quarters with steel pins.

Taby is recovered now, he adds, and is handy around the house. Loves cigarette butts and cleans out all the ash trays. Only trouble: Taby drinks. It sneaks around at parties and takes sips from the guests' glasses.

Steve wanders through the house, which is a normal California ranch-type with a 50-year-old slot machine and an ancient piano. Outside, he shows the sunken bar he is building. It will house some huge whisky barrels, in which he plans to make his own wine.

Then he ambles down the two-acre estate to his latest addition. It's a monstrous swimming pool with a tropical island in the middle.

Business Relations Advisory Panel Meet Wednesday

Members of the Business Relations Advisory Committee of the Washington C. H. Chamber of Commerce will meet at noon Wednesday in the Hotel Washington banquet room to discuss a program or a series of programs to better explain the free enterprise system.

A guest at the meeting will be Jean McPherson, Toledo, manager of the Ohio-Michigan district of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Members of the local committee are Thurl Campbell, chairman; Larry Soldan, Don Murdock, Bill Williams, Omar (Jim) Schwartz, Paul Dougherty, Leo Edwards, R. S. Rochester, John Eshleman, Joe Peters and Walter Morrow, the latter president of the Washington C. H. Chamber.

House Probe Planned in Knutson Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House committee has asked Minnesota authorities to preserve all ballots in the disputed election which brought defeat to Rep. Coya Knutson (D-Minn.).

The committee acted amid confusion over the status of a $200,000 suit filed by Mrs. Knutson's husband, Andy, against William Kjeldahl, Mrs. Knutson's top aide.

Last week, Kjeldahl made public a letter purportedly from Andy Knutson and saying that Knutson was dropping his suit alleging alienation of affections and slander. That letter also said Knutson had fired his Washington lawyer, Benedict F. Fitzgerald.

Monday, Fitzgerald said Knutson had no right to act personally in dropping his suit. The lawyer also said he has not had any notice from Knutson that he has been removed from the case.

But the U.S. District Court clerk's office said a memorandum signed by Knutson to dismiss the case was enough.

Mrs. Knutson declined to talk with newsmen, but a member of her office staff said the congresswoman was living with her husband. The aide said she did not know where they were staying.

Differences between the Knutsons became news last spring when Andy publicly appealed to his blonde wife to give up politics and return home. He is a hotel operator in Oklee, Minn.

Disregarding this appeal, Mrs. Knutson ran for a third term but was defeated narrowly by Republican Odin Langen.

Koreas, Viet Nam Rap U.S. Units in Korea

TOKYO (AP)—Communist North Korea and North Viet Nam demanded today that the United States pull its troops out of South Korea, Japan and the Formosa Strait and "stop interference in South Viet Nam."

They charged in a joint communique that American was blocking peaceful unification of both Viet Nam and Korea.

Do You Have Blood? If So, Give So Others Can Live

Do you have blood in your veins? If so, the Red Cross would like to take a pint of it so somebody else might live.

And the Fayette County Professional Nurses Assn. would especially like to see you if you have negative type blood.

Open heart surgery in Columbus has unexpectedly come close to depleting the supply of negative blood in banks in University Hospital and especially in Children's Hospital.

During the six hours the Bloodmobile will be at the First Presbyterian Church next Monday (10 a. m. to 4 p. m.) the nurses would like to see about 220 Fayette County residents so they can fulfill the county's quota of 185 pints.

THE NURSES once again asked

$18,000 SHOPLIFT—Lorraine C. DeWolfe, 35, demonstrates how she secreted that $18,000 lid from a gold coffee pot valued at $72,000 in a cheap teapot at the City of Paris department store in San Francisco. The coffee pot was on an open counter on the main floor. She hid the lid on the fifth floor. The theft baffled police till, in a check of all employees, they ran her down and she confessed.

residents to make appointments sometime this week so a schedule can be set up for the convenience of the donors. The telephone numbers are—2-2401 or 2-3681.

If the nurses receive the calls by Friday at 2:30 p. m. adequate facilities will be set up for them when they come in to donate, the nurses said.

ABOUT 15 PER CENT of Fayette County's residents have negative blood, the Red Cross said. This means there are about 3,000 people in the county who could help some child who has heart trouble and needs an operation.

The nurses reminded residents of the holiday season coming up and the amount of blood that will be needed to care for people involved in accidents in the home and on the road.

The nurses' association raised its quota from the usual 150 each time the Bloodmobile visits Washington C. H. to 185 this time because of a deficit built up since January.

The year's total for the Bloodmobile, which is in Fayette County about every eight weeks is 900. If the quota had been filled every trip to the total number of pints of blood already donated would be 750 but because the number has fallen 35 short of that number the December quota was raised.

Board Pays Bills For School Jobs

OKs Expenditures From $23,000 Fund

Expenditures totaling $15,326.25 from a total sum of $23,000 to be borrowed for improvements at new schools were approved by the Washington C. H. Board of Education Monday night.

OK'd for payment was a bill for $6,259.65 from the Sever-Williams Co. for sidewalks already completed at Eastside, Belle Aire, Cherry Hill and Rose Avenue schools; a bill for $8,925.15 from G. D. Baker and Son for grading and surfacing driveways, parking and playground areas at the four schools and an expenditure of $141.45 for a film strip projector to be used at Belle Aire.

The balance of the $23,000 will be used for the purchase of folding chairs, playground equipment, globes, maps and other equipment. Existing playground equipment at the old Eastside school will be moved to the Eastside grounds when weather permits.

ON RECOMMENDATION of Superintendent W. A. Smith, Mrs. Mabel B. Rea, 716 Park Dr., was employed as a substitute teacher in the elementary grades, and Mrs. Mary K. Tate, 1025 Dayton Ave., was employed as a substitute in elementary and high school.

A contract for 1959 typewriter replacement (15 new models at $170 each less $85 each for 15 three-year-old trade-ins) was awarded to the Tatum Typewriter Service, Chillicothe, on a total bid of $1,275 plus $170 for an extra typewriter with large type to be used in preparing elementary school materials.

Only other bid was $1,435. In other action, the board approved $40,111.90 in current bills including payroll; approved payment of $1,905.18 to the Columbus Heating and Ventilating Co. for contract work and $300 to the Sever-Williams Co. for construction.

New Trial Asked In Damage Action

Another request for new trial in the damage action brought by Virginia A. Thompson against Morton S. Titus has been filed by the defendant in Common Pleas Court. Attorneys for Titus base the request on what is claimed to be new evidence which would appear to question competence of testimony in the original trial.

Miss Thompson, in her original petition, had asked $50,000 damages for injuries received in alleged assault by the defendant. A jury, on Dec. 6, 1957, returned a verdict for a $10,000 judgment, but Judge John P. Case ruled that this was excessive in the amount of $7,500 and held that unless Mrs. Thompson consented to accept $2,500, the court would grant Titus a new trial.

The verdict of the lower court was appealed and the Second District appellate court reversed Judge Case and reinstated the $10,000 verdict. Titus later asked the Ohio Supreme Court to review the case. His motion to certify is now pending before that body. In his motion here, Titus asks that the $10,000 jury verdict be set aside and that a new trial be held in the lower court.

Housebreaking Added To Talents Of City Firemen

Raymond Stephens is a man of many talents.

A city fireman by occupation, a barber by trade and a magician by avocation, he added housebreaking to his accomplishments Monday afternoon.

But it was all very legal, in fact very helpful and in line of duty — as a fireman. A call came to the fire department at 1:15 p. m. asking for help in breaking in a house at 1038 Wilford St. occupied by the Robert Brown family.

The caller explained that the last one out had locked the doors and left the keys inside. Stephens couldn't use any magic tricks to go through the door, but he was successful in jimmying a window. The job took him only 15 minutes.

Courts

SUIT ASKS PARTITION

Roseann S. Miller, Palmetto, Fla., has filed an action in Common Pleas Court, asking partition of approximately 425 acres in Jasper Township. Defendants are Iris Lee McKinley, Hermosa Beach, Calif., and Jackson M. Sparks, Albuquerque, N. M.

The plaintiff states that she and the defendants hold one-third interest in the property, devised to them by their grandfather, Grant Marchant. If the land cannot be partitioned without loss. The plaintiff asks that it be appraised, sold and the proceeds distributed.

Ditch and Street Matters Before County Commission

Fayette County commissioners held a routine session at the Courthouse Monday, adjourning to make an afternoon trip to Wilmington where a discussion was held on the proposed Waddle ditch improvement in Fayette and Clinton counties.

Filing of an engineering estimate on costs of the improvement was postponed until Dec. 15.

Attending the conference in Wilmington were County Commissioners Cliff Hughes and Ralph Minton; County Auditor Harry Allen, County Engineer Charles Wagner and Assistant Engineer Gale Helms.

During the regular session here, commissioners discussed recent street improvements with Jeffersonville village officials, pointing out that while the county can provide manpower and equipment for village street projects, it cannot assist in paying for materials.

A scheduled conference with health department representatives relative to needed sanitary improvements in the North Shore and Rosemont Court areas, adjoining the city to the north, was postponed.

Elks' Memorial Services Sunday

The Rev. W. Neil Hand, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will be the speaker when Washington C. H. Lodge No. 129, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, holds its annual memorial service at 2 p. m. Sunday at the lodge room on N. Main St.

Grover Baber, of the Washington High School music faculty, will be vocal soloist.

The public is invited to attend the service, Horace L. Jacobs, exalted ruler of the local lodge, said. Regular meetings of the lodge are scheduled Wednesday night of this week and Wednesday, Dec. 17. The time is 8 p. m.

Open Schools, Clear Roads Follow Warmth

All Miami Trace schools were open and Fayette County roads in "pretty good shape" Tuesday, on the heels of warm temperatures which melted much of the snow in Ohio Monday.

County engineers said only a few slippery spots remain where shade prevented the ice from melting Monday. Crews are salting those areas and pushing large piles of snow back further from the roads, the engineers said.

The Highway Patrol said all roads south of Route 40 are clear. Only scattered patches of ice remain north of that route, the Patrol said.

Hog Prices Drop

Hog prices went down 50 cents since Monday, the ABC Stockyards said Tuesday.

Buyers at the yards are purchasing 180 to 220 pound hogs at $18.50, they said.

HUNTER HUNTER—Fettered to a tree, Naarval Moon, 18, is questioned by Deputies Danny Brock (left) and Joe Thorne of Houston, Tex., after he admitted shooting to death three hunters and robbing them of $48. Killed were Bertram J. Appleton, 38; son Steven, 11; Lee Hanson, 40. Four girls riding horseback heard the shots and got the law on Moon.

Steve Cochran Is Proving Hollywood Characters Exist

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Those who think that Hollywood is losing its characters should take a trip to Steve Cochran's house.

Some place! It's got a swimming pool that looks more like a mountain lake, complete with island. Also 25 animals, including two goats and a deer named Taby.

The house clings to a hillside. The first greeters are Shane, a German shepherd, and his pal Taby, an extremely companionable deer of four months. There are cats all over the place.

Steve appears in blue jeans, dirty shirt and bare feet—he's no beatnik, just likes comfort. He explains about Taby: It was found on a mountain road with rear end smashed by a car. Steve adopted it, had a vet fix its hind quarters with steel pins.

Taby is recovered now, he adds, and is handy around the house. Loves cigarette butts and cleans out all the ash trays. Only trouble: Taby drinks. It sneaks around at parties and takes sips from the guests' glasses.

Steve wanders through the house, which is a normal California ranch-type with a 50-year-old slot machine and an ancient piano. Outside, he shows the sunken bar he is building. It will house some huge whisky barrels, in which he plans to make his own wine.

Then he ambles down the two-acre estate to his latest addition. It's a monstrous swimming pool with a tropical island in the middle.

Mainly About People

Deborah Diane, is the name chosen by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Highfield, 913 Clinton Ave., for their daughter born Wednesday in Memorial hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Thompson, Route 2, New Holland, have named their daughter, Kris Elen. She was born in Memorial Hospital Thursday.

Ricky Jay, is the name chosen by Mr. and Mrs. William S. Alltop, 1117 Campbell St., for their son born in Memorial Hospital Nov. 25.

Business Relations Advisory Panel Meet Wednesday

Members of the Business Relations Advisory Committee of the Washington C. H. Chamber of Commerce will meet at noon Wednesday in the Hotel Washington banquet room to discuss a program or a series of programs to better explain the free enterprise system.

A guest at the meeting will be Jean McPherson, Toledo, manager of the Ohio-Michigan district of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Members of the local committee are Thurl Campbell, chairman; Larry Soldan, Don Murdock, Bill Williams, Omar (Jim) Schwartz, Paul Dougherty, Leo Edwards, R. S. Rochester, John Eschleman, Joe Peters and Walter Morrow, the latter president of the Washington C. H. Chamber.

House Probe Planned in Knutson Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House committee has asked Minnesota authorities to preserve all ballots in the disputed election which brought defeat to Rep. Coya Knutson (D-Minn.).

The committee acted amid confusion over the status of a $200,000 suit filed by Mrs. Knutson's husband, Andy, against William Kjeldahl, Mrs. Knutson's top aide.

Last week, Kjeldahl made public a letter purportedly from Andy Knutson saying that Knutson was dropping his suit alleging alienation of affections and slander. That letter also said Knutson had fired his Washington lawyer, Benedict F. Fitzgerald.

Monday, Fitzgerald said Knutson had no right to act personally in dropping his suit. The lawyer also said he has not had any notice from Knutson that he has been removed from the case.

But the U. S. District Court clerk's office said a memorandum signed by Knutson to dismiss the case was enough.

Mrs. Knutson declined to talk with newsmen, but a member of her office staff said the congresswoman was living with her husband. The aide said she did not know where they were staying.

Differences between the Knutsons became news last spring when Andy publicly appealed to his blonde wife to give up politics and return home. He is a hotel operator in Oklee, Minn.

Disregarding this appeal, Mrs. Knutson ran for a third term but was defeated narrowly by Republican Odin Langen.

Koreas, Viet Nam Rap U.S. Units in Korea

TOKYO (AP)—Communist North Korea and North Viet Nam demanded today that the United States pull its troops out of South Korea, Japan and the Formosa Strait and "stop interference in South Viet Nam."

They charged in a joint communique that American was blocking peaceful unification of both Viet Nam and Korea.

Do You Have Blood? If So, Give So Others Can Live

Do you have blood in your veins? If so, the Red Cross would like to take a pint of it so somebody else might live.

And the Fayette County Professional Nurses Assn. would especially like to see you if you have negative type blood.

Open heart surgery in Columbus has unexpectedly come close to depleting the supply of negative blood in banks in University Hospital and especially in Children's Hospital.

During the six hours the Bloodmobile will be at the First Presbyterian Church next Monday (10 a. m. to 4 p. m.) the nurses would like to see about 220 Fayette County residents so they can fulfill the county's quota of 185 pints.

THE NURSES once again asked residents to make appointments sometime this week so a schedule can be set up for the convenience of the donors. The telephone numbers are—2-2401 or 2-3681.

If the nurses receive the calls by Friday at 2:30 p. m. adequate facilities will be set up for them when they come in to donate, the nurses said.

ABOUT 15 PER CENT of Fayette County's residents have negative blood, the Red Cross said. This means there are about 3,000 people in the county who could help some child who has heart trouble and needs an operation.

The nurses reminded residents of the holiday season coming up and the amount of blood that will be needed to care for people involved in accidents in the home and on the road.

The nurses' association raised its quota from the usual 150 each time the Bloodmobile visits Washington C. H. to 185 this time because of a deficit built up since January.

The year's total for the Bloodmobile, which is in Fayette County about every eight weeks is 900. If the quota had been filled every trip to the total number of pints of blood already donated would be 750 but because the number has fallen 35 short of that number the December quota was raised.
